WHY HAVE TWO GENERAL FISHING LAW ZONES?

There are different General Law Season dates, Brook Trout Bag Limits, Terminal Gear Restrictions, and Bass Bag and Length Limits depending on zone, North or South, illustrated to the left.

The North Zone contains an abundance of wild and native coldwater fish populations, while the South Zone contains predominately stocked and/or warmwater fisheries. The difference in General Fishing Laws reflect the management needs for the two zones, and typically offer additional protection to wild and native resources in the North and more angling opportunity (i.e., fall or year round fishing) in the South.

LAWS OF THE MAINE OUTDOORS

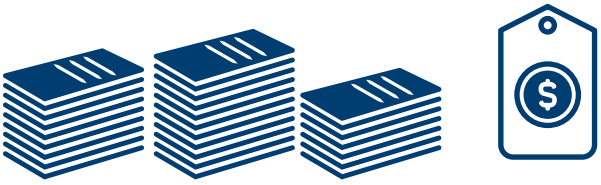
Being a responsible user of the Maine outdoors means staying informed of, and complying with, the current laws and rules.

This book, published by the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife (MDIFW), is designed to help you quickly find and understand the fishing laws and rules that apply to you. We've also included handy tips to make your Maine fishing experience a memorable one. And in the back, you'll find MDIFW contact info, including regional game warden communication centers.

Our popular summary guides make it easy to find and follow the laws and rules that apply to you, no matter what outdoor activity you're interested in. And now, our NEW digital formats allow you to quickly check a technical rule, look up best practices and more—from anywhere, anytime.

WHY DIGITAL LAW BOOKS?

In 2016, we printed over 700,000 law books. That's a lot of paper and a lot of money diverted from Maine's fish and wildlife.



With 77% of the U.S. population using smartphones in 2017, our agency's mission clearly directed us to make a shift. And while we are still printing some books (available at license agent locations), we're asking you to do your part and make use of the convenient and responsible digital options.

As a bonus, the digital options are searchable and always on hand, as long as you have your mobile device. If you always keep it on you (and charged) to take photos or use the GPS, this is a no-brainer.

VIEW MAINE'S FISHING LAWS ONLINE

In 2017 MDIFW began printing fewer law books to devote more money to Maine's fish and wildlife and reduce paper use. And while we're still printing some law books (available at license agent locations), we're asking you to do your part and make use of the convenient and responsible digital options. Our new digital formats allow you to quickly check a technical rule, look up best practices and more—from anywhere, anytime.

MAINE FISHING LAWS ONLINE ANGLING TOOL (FLOAT)

We created this map-based online tool to give you a quick and easy way to see which of Maine's thousands of inland waters have Special Fishing Laws. By accessing FLOAT from your computer or smartphone, you can quickly locate a body of water, determine if it is regulated with General and/or Special Fishing Laws, and download a PDF to print or view later. Find it at mefishwildlife.com/float.

LICENSE REQUIREMENTS AND FEES

License Requirements & Fees

WHO NEEDS A LICENSE?

A valid Maine fishing license is required for anyone 16 years of age or older to fish in inland waters or transport fish taken from inland waters.

HOW ARE LICENSES OBTAINED?

Residents and nonresidents may obtain fishing licenses from agents throughout the State (sporting goods stores, many convenience stores, town clerks, and turnpike service centers), online at mefishwildlife.com or from our Department office in Augusta. Note: Not all town clerks issue nonresident licenses.

OTHER FISHING LICENSE PROVISIONS

A person is required to keep their fishing license with them at all times while fishing or transporting fish and must exhibit their license for inspection by any warden, department employee, guide, or landowner upon request. An electronic license or permit can now be displayed in lieu of a physical paper license or permit.

Possession of fishing tackle in the fields or forests or on the waters or ice of this State without a fishing license is prima facie evidence of fishing in violation of the law.

The commissioner may allow a licensee who has received a complimentary fishing license (See General Fishing Laws and Definitions) to have a person accompany and assist that licensee in fishing. The person accompanying and assisting the holder of a complimentary fishing license may do so without obtaining a separate fishing license. This subsection does not authorize the person accompanying and assisting the licensee to assist that licensee with more than one fishing rod and reel. The person accompanying and assisting the licensee must remain within the immediate proximity of the licensee while that licensee is fishing. ■

MAINE LIFETIME LICENSE

Pass on a Maine Tradition and a Gift that will Last a Lifetime

Your investment in a lifetime license for yourself or as a gift will allow the bearer to fish, trap, and/or hunt for their lifetime, regardless of where they will live in the future. The revenues generated by the sale of these licenses will be deposited in a special trust fund that will provide long-term financial support for Maine's fish and wildlife.

FREE FISHING DAYS

Free fishing days are February 18-19, 2023 and June 3-4, 2023. On these days, any person (except those whose license has been suspended or revoked) may fish without a license. All other laws and regulations apply on these days.

SUPER PACK LICENSE

The Super Pack License includes muzzleloader, crossbow, migratory waterfowl, pheasant, spring/fall turkey, bear hunting, coyote night hunt, and three expanded archery antlerless permits. The license includes a dog training and hunting permit which must be obtained through the MDIFW Augusta office via phone, email, mail, or in-person. Fishing with Soft Plastics

Soft plastic lures are popular fishing tackle; and just like all other equipment, it's your responsibility to properly maintain and dispose of them. There is no doubt, discarding soft plastic lures on land or in the water is littering and poses environmental concerns. Over the years, discarded plastic lures have been improperly disposed of and have ended up on lake bottoms or in fish stomachs. Fish can ingest these lures off the bottom, and that can negatively impact their health.

Do your part to help keep Maine's waters clean and fisheries healthy:

1. ✓ Properly dispose of soft plastic lures

Dispose of used lures in a trash can or recycling canister – never toss used lures into the water or on land. Several Maine boat launches offer bait recycling canisters, and many local fishing clubs and retailers also offer bait recycling programs.

2. ✓ Secure your lure

Secure your hook to help your lure stay where it belongs. Technology has come a long way since plastic lures were first introduced, and many on the market today are made with more durable materials for a longer lifespan and have built-in lure retention devices. If you are working with older lures, there are various products and methods available to extend their useful life, including but not limited to O-rings, zip ties, swimbait keepers, twist locks, bait stops, and super glue. Learn more at mefishwildlife.com/softplasticlures.

3. ✓ Check your bait often

Soft plastic lures can wear out and get brittle, stretch, or rip, increasing the likelihood that they could fall off your hook. The best thing you can do to prevent that is inspect your soft plastic lure frequently, including every time you catch a fish. Remember, it is time to replace or repair your lure if:

- The lure keeps sliding down the hook
- The lure has a minor cut
- The plastic is stretched or brittle
- You have caught several fish and worked the lure over abrasive cover

O-rings and hooks with built-in retention devices such as twist locks and bait keepers help keep lures where they belong.

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

How do soft plastic lures impact the health of a fish?

Fish readily feed on discarded or lost soft plastic lures found on the bottom of Maine's waters. Limited research indicates some fish like bass can regurgitate plastic lures, but other fish like brook trout may not and since soft plastic lures do not readily decompose in fish or in the water, and they also tend to swell over time, their accumulation in fish stomachs may alter feeding behaviors and adversely impact fish health.

I have never found a lure in the stomach of a fish, is this really a problem?

Anglers commonly report catching fish that contain soft plastic lures. Soft plastic lures are most often found in lakes with bass, since they are a popular lure for bass fishing. Bass are found primarily in the southern and coastal portion of the state. An examination of 18,000 stomachs from fish by MDIFW revealed on average only 2% of the fish had soft plastic lures in their stomachs. However, some waters experience elevated rates of ingestion influenced by water clarity, bottom type, type of fish, and availability of other prey. Since soft plastic lures do not tend to decompose in water, they can accumulate.

What is MDIFW doing to protect the state's fisheries from soft plastic lures?

The Department is committed to educating anglers on the environmental concerns related to soft plastic lures in the water and on the land, proper disposal of soft plastic lures, and steps to take to prevent unintentional loss while fishing. MDIFW's goal is to significantly reduce the number of soft plastic lures ending up in Maine's waters and land while keeping this popular fishing lure available to anglers.

Aquatic Invasive Species

Help us Keep it Maine: Protect our waters from aquatic invasive species

Learn more at mefishwildlife.com/cdd

Maine has some of the country's most pristine and healthy waters, which support high-quality habitat for fish and wildlife as well as endless opportunities for outdoor recreation. On our inland waters, anglers can fish for native brook trout, Arctic charr, landlocked salmon, and lake trout, just to name a few.

Unfortunately, Maine waters, as well as the fish, wildlife, and recreation they support, are threatened each year by introductions of fish, plants, diseases, and other aquatic hitchhikers that compete with and displace native natural communities.

WHAT CAN BE DONE?

Once an invasive aquatic species has established in a body of water, it is extremely difficult for it to be eradicated. These efforts are costly, often risky, and not always successful and introductions have the potential to change our natural places and the way we enjoy them forever.

Therefore, prevention is key. So much of the spread comes from people simply enjoying the great outdoors. It's our duty as those who enjoy using Maine's waters to become informed, attentive, and accountable for our potential role in the spread of invasive species and to take steps to protect Maine's waters.

DO YOUR PART: PROTECT MAINE WATERS FROM INVASIVE AQUATIC SPECIES

1 CLEAN

- Clean off plants, animals, and mud from gear and equipment including waders, footwear, ropes, anchors, bait traps, dip nets, downrigger cables, fishing lines, and field gear before leaving water access.
- Scrub off any visible material on footwear with a stiff brush.
- Dispose of debris in a trash reciprocal or a responsible location away from the water.

2 DRAIN

- Drain water from watercraft, motor, bilge, bladder tanks, live well and portable bait containers away from the water before leaving water access.

3 DRY

- Dry completely before reuse.

Under Maine law, you must immediately kill any fish that you decide to keep, and never transport any live fish (other than legal baitfish).

Never introduce fish or fish eggs into any inland water, including private, small, artificially constructed ponds, without a permit. MDIFW does issue permits to allow for safe and appropriate private pond stocking. Applicants must show that the stocking will not create adverse risks to native species, and that fish will come from pre-approved and licensed private hatcheries.

Make sure you are using legal baitfish species. See the Baitfish Information section for a quick guide to identifying legal and illegal species.

Don't dump your bait! Properly dispose of unused baitfish on land or in the trash. Never release any live baitfish into a water body.

Consider using non-felt soled boots to further reduce the risk of spreading aquatic invasive species. If you do use felt soled boots, thoroughly dry the boots and/or soak in a disinfecting solution before moving to another body of water.

If you see or suspect someone is moving live fish, contact the Maine Warden Service immediately at 1-800-ALERT-US or report the offense at MaineOGT.orgthe offense at MaineOGT.org

For more information on invasive aquatic plants, please visit: maine.gov/dep/water/invasives. ■

Baitfish Information

HARVESTING BAITFISH FOR PERSONAL USE

All inland waters (including rivers, streams and brooks) are open to the taking of baitfish for personal use unless designated "closed to the taking of live baitfish" (see Special Fishing Laws beginning on page 5), with the following conditions:

- Legal species only – See page 52 for list of fish legal to use and harvest as bait. All other fish must be immediately released alive into the water from which they were taken.
- Fishing license required – You must have a valid Maine fishing license to harvest baitfish for personal use. Baitfish may not be sold or harvested with the intent to sell without a bait dealer's license.
- Label and tend your traps – Baitfish traps and holding cages must be labeled with the owner's name and address, and must be tended at least once every 7 days by the person who set them.
- Trap specifications apply – Baitfish traps may not exceed 50 cubic feet in volume and must be fitted with rigid entrance or exit holes.

BAITFISH IMPORTATION PROHIBITED

It is unlawful to import any live baitfish or smelts into the State of Maine. This law helps keep Maine's waters healthy by limiting the introduction of foreign fish diseases and parasites, exotic fish species, invasive plants, and other undesirable aquatic life that can irreversibly damage Maine's natural resources. Do your part by only using locally caught legal baitfish species when fishing in Maine.

STORING LIVE BAITFISH

You may not store or hold live baitfish in waters where the use or possession of live fish as bait is prohibited during the entire fishing season. This includes waters restricted to the use of artificial lures only, waters restricted to fly fishing, and waters where there are other prohibitions on the use of live fish as bait.

COMMERCIAL BAIT DEALER'S LICENSE

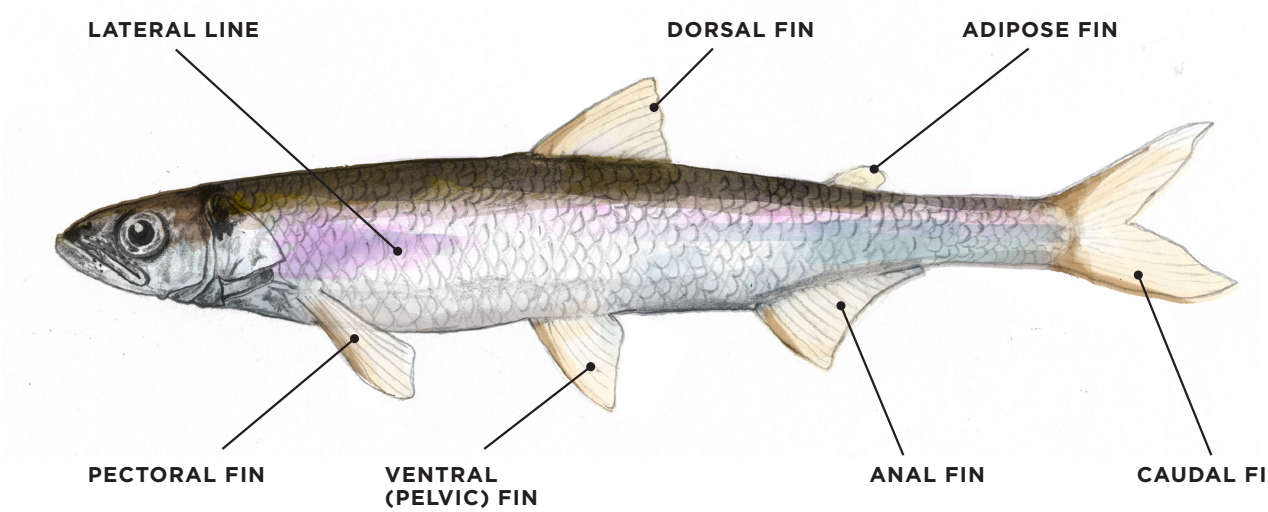
In order to harvest live baitfish and smelts for sale, or to buy and resell them, you must possess a valid bait dealer's license (Bait Retail License, Bait Wholesale License, or Smelt Wholesale License). For more information on license requirements or how to obtain a license, contact MDIFW at (207) 287-8000 or visit mefishwildlife.com.

LEGAL BAITFISH

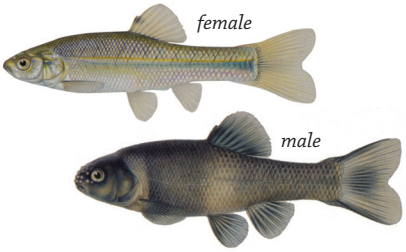
The following are the only fish species that may be used as bait (live or dead) for fishing in Maine's inland waters. Any other fish species must be immediately killed or released alive into the water from which it was taken. Any fish killed becomes part of the daily bag limit.

- Common Shiner
- Golden Shiner
- Rainbow Smelt
- Blacknose Dace
- Finescale Dace
- Northern Redbelly Dace
- Pearl Dace
- Creek Chub
- Lake Chub
- Eastern Silvery Minnow
- Fathead Minnow
- Fallfish
- Longnose Sucker
- White Sucker
- Banded Killifish
- Mummichog
- American Eel

TIPS ON IDENTIFYING COMMON LEGAL BAITFISH



Rainbow Smelt
- Long, slender, and silvery
- Adipose fin present

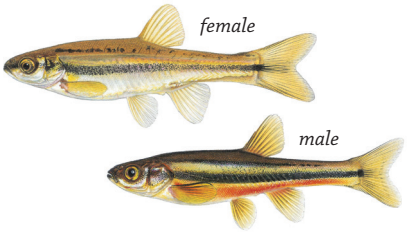


Fathead Minnow
- First dorsal fin ray is short and thick
- Distinctive fat/flattened head shape
- Generally 2–2.5" in length

Creek Chub
- Similar to Lake Chub but with a dark spot at base of dorsal fin
- Upper jaw extends at least to below front of eye

Sucker (White and Longnose)

- Mouth points downward with thick lips
- Large scales
- Adults can be over 22" in length

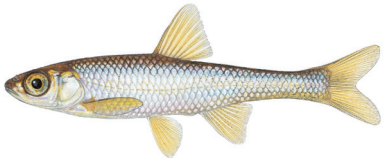


Northern Redbelly Dace

- Two black lateral bands down body
- Males may exhibit bright red coloration on bellies
- Similar legal species include blacknose, longnose, pearl, and finescale dace

Golden Shiner

- Deep flattened body with a strongly downward curving lateral line
- Large scales
- Sickle-shaped anal fin
- Fleshy "keel" (lacks scales) between the pelvic fins and anal fin



Eastern Silvery Minnow

- Silvery sides with some olive coloration on back
- Lower jaw is crescent or banana shaped
- Somewhat similar in appearance to rainbow smelt, but adipose fin absent

Common Shiner

- Deep bodies with a slightly downward curving lateral line (curved less deeply than the golden shiner)
- Scales on sides near the front of the body are obviously taller than they are wide
- Mature individuals may have red fins (also known as the "Redfin Shiner")

Lake Chub

- Similar in appearance to Creek Chub, but lacks a dot at the base of the dorsal fin
- Mature adults may have bright orange/red spots where the pectoral fins meet the body

TROUBLE BY THE BUCKETFUL

That's what the illegal introduction of exotic species brings to Maine's waters.

Some thoughtless individuals are attempting to destroy the future of Maine's native fisheries. These non-sportsmen illegally stock the type of fish they prefer to catch, without regard for the environmental havoc they inflict on the resource. Illegal stocking selfishly denies the people of Maine the right to decide what is best for our waters.

Please help fight this serious problem.

- It is illegal to transport live fish without a permit except legal baitfish or smelts.
- It is illegal to dump unused baitfish into any waterway.
- There is a $10,000 fine for a conviction of illegal stocking.
- Always keep your ears and eyes open for those who are committing these senseless acts.
- If convicted, the license revocation has increased from 1 to 5 years.

BE ON THE LOOKOUT FOR AQUATIC INVADERS

Maine Law prohibits the transport or possession of any invasive plant or plant parts on watercraft or equipment (including baitfish traps and nets) that could cause the plant or plant parts to enter waters of the state. It's up to you to inspect boats and equipment and ensure Maine's waters are free from all aquatic invaders, including invasive plants. Failure to clean your equipment between waters puts you subject to financial penalties and loss of equipment.

Recreational Angling for Migratory Fish

There are several species of migratory fish (such as shad, river herring/alewives, and striped bass) that are managed by the Maine Department of Marine Resources and may be found in the inland waters of Maine.

Complete information on recreational angling regulations for these species, and others, can be found by visiting maine.gov/dmr/recreational-fishing or by contacting the Maine Department of Marine Resources, 32 Blossom Lane, 21 SHS, Augusta, ME 04333-0021, (207) 624-6550. ■

SPECIES	DAILY BAG & POSSESSION LIMITS	MINIMUM LENGTH LIMIT
American Eel	25 fish	9 inches
River Herring	25 fish	None
Shad	2 fish	None
Striped Bass	1 fish	28 inch minimum; all fish 35 inches or larger must be released alive
Sturgeon	No Fishing Permitted

KNOW THE S-33 CODE

Maximum length limit on Landlocked Salmon and Brown Trout: 25 inches

Sea-run Atlantic salmon occur in many of Maine's inland waters where landlocked Atlantic salmon and brown trout may also exist. Sea-run salmon are listed as endangered by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service and therefore may not be fished or harvested. Sea-run salmon exhibit a variety of color phases from black to silver to brown, and can look similar to brown trout and landlocked salmon in coloration. Therefore, establishing a 25 inch maximum length limit (S-33) on waters where adult sea-run Atlantic salmon may occur ensures anglers will not inadvertently "take" a misidentified endangered fish. Any sea-run Atlantic salmon incidentally caught must be released immediately, alive and uninjured. At no time should sea-run Atlantic salmon be removed from the water. ■

Fishing on these waters in any area or cove where jurisdiction can be determined by a straight line drawn between two points of land, or fishing while positioned on shore or tied up to shore requires the appropriate agency license.

Freshwater Fish Safe Eating Guidelines

For more information visit the Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention website: maine.gov/dhhs/fishandgamesafety.

MERCURY IN FISH GUIDELINES

Mercury in Maine freshwater fish may harm the babies of pregnant and nursing mothers, and young children.

- Pregnant and nursing women, women who may get pregnant, and children under age 8 SHOULD NOT EAT ANY freshwater fish from Maine's inland waters, except, for brook trout and landlocked salmon, one meal per month is safe.
- All other adults and children older than 8 CAN EAT two freshwater fish meals per month. For brook trout and landlocked salmon, the limit is one meal per week.

PFAS IN FISH GUIDELINES

Fish tested in several locations found levels of per- and polyfluoroalkyl substances (PFAS) above Maine CDC's recommended levels for regular consumption. Exposure to certain PFAS chemicals has been associated with:

- changes in liver and kidney function,
- changes in cholesterol levels,
- decreased immune response to vaccines in children,
- complications during pregnancy, and
- increased risk of kidney cancer and possibly testicular cancer.

Limit or eliminate consumption of all fish or certain fish species from the waterbodies listed in the table below.

ADDITIONAL FISH GUIDELINES: PCBS, DIOXINS, AND DDT

- Fish caught in some Maine waters have high levels of PCBs, Dioxins or DDT in them.
- These chemicals can cause cancer and other health effects.

The Maine Center for Disease Control and Prevention recommends additional fish consumption limits on the waters listed below. Remember to check the mercury guidelines. If the water you are fishing is listed below, check the mercury guideline to the left and follow the most limiting guidelines. ■
