7. TECHNICAL CAPABILITY OF THE TRANSFEREE

Provide information regarding professional expertise. For each transferee, attaching a resume or documentation of practical experience necessary to undertake aquaculture activities would satisfy this requirement.

Pemaquid Mussel Farms has been culturing mussels on rafts since 2007. Carter Newell and Tim Levesque are both founding owners and owner operators and have been involved in the regular operations of the company since the beginning. The company has also operated on this lease (DAM CC2) for much of that time. Carter Newell's resume is attached to the email containing this application.

8. FINANCIAL CAPABILITY OF THE TRANSFEREE

A. Please provide a letter from a financial institution indicating the applicant has an account in good standing.

Note: Any financial information you submit with your application is part of the public record. Please exercise discretion when submitting financial information.

A letter from Camden National Bank verifying Carter Newell's and Pemaquid Mussel Farms LLC good standing relationship with the bank is attached to this application.

B. Please provide cost estimates of the aquaculture activities the transferee plans to conduct on this lease.

Pemaquid Mussel Farms LLC does not plan to alter regular operations on this lease in any way that would create extra costs beyond the usual operational expenses.

9. BIRD DETERRENT

Suspended culture gear can attract birds that roost on the gear and defecate, potentially creating a pollution source impacting shellfish held within the gear. In order to comply with the National Shellfish Sanitation Program (NSSP) Model Ordinance (MO), DMR is requiring that all applications involving the suspended culture of shellfish include a description of mitigation or deterrent measures to minimize the potential pollution impacts of birds at the proposed site. If appropriate, include sketches or photos that clearly depict those measures put into practice.

Examples may include:

- Submerging suspended gear and associated product at a depth sufficient to deter roosting for two weeks before harvest
- Attaching physical deterrents (i.e. zip ties) to gear
- The site is proposed for the culture of seed only
- The site is proposed for the culture of adductor-only scallops (i.e. no other shellfish species would be grown on the site)
- Proposed gear would always be suspended below the surface of the water at a depth sufficient to deter roosting (i.e. as is common for scallop lantern nets)

To minimize the potential pollution impacts of birds on our mussel rafts, Pemaquid Mussel Farms will install and maintain owl decoys over the proposed site. These decoys are commercially available at farm and garden supply stores, are intended to repel birds and to be used on docks and boats. The realistic owl head bobs and turns in gentle breezes to protect against pests. The owl scarecrow to be used is hand-painted and stands at 18 in. tall.

9. FORM OF OWNERSHIP

State law limits the maximum aquaculture lease acreage a lessee can hold to 1,000 acres. Lease acreage held by a corporation or partnership is attributed to the stockholders or partners in the same proportion as their ownership in the corporation or partnership. For example, a 35% shareholder in a company holding a 100-acre lease is deemed to hold 35 acres (See DMR Rule 2.12(3)).

A. Individuals. Answer the following questions if any transferees are assuming this lease as individuals.

3. How many acres of aquaculture leases do you currently hold, whether as an individual, a stockholder, a partner, or other co-owner of a lease or leases?	15.99 acres
