

The Geology of Cobscook Bay State Park

A talk by Robert Johnston,
Geologist

Maine Geological Survey

Department of Agriculture, Conservation and Forestry

Saturday, September 5, 2015

9:30 AM

In the

Burnt Cove Day-Use Picnic Area

Park Address: 40 South Edmonds Road, Edmonds Twp.
(4 miles south of Dennysville)

The unique landscape of Cobscook Bay State Park is found nowhere else along the eastern Atlantic seaboard. Join geologist Robert Johnston to learn about the geologic events that shaped this area of Maine into the beautiful place it is today and look at a few places in the Park with interesting geology. Program length is approximately 45 minutes and includes a short, easy walk to the shore.

For More Information about

The Park: (207) 726-4412

www.maine.gov/cobscookbay

The program: www.parksandlands.com

