The Department of Environmental Protection has included texts of enacted, unallocated law provisions relating to the codified statutory provisions in this publication. "Unallocated law" provisions are not allocated to the Maine Revised Statute, and are often temporary in effect. Such housekeeping provisions may include application, transition, implementation, appropriation and sunset provisions. Unallocated law has the same legal effect as codified law. The department has not included unallocated law provisions related to subjects such as reporting and rulemaking requirements.

The table of contents and footnotes are not part of the statutory text. Not all previous amendments are indicated.

This handout dated August 23, 2006 includes amendments to the Stormwater Management Law contained in the following chapter enacted during the Second Regular Session of the 122nd Legislature and effective August 23, 2006:

Chapter 602, An Act Regarding Storm Water Program Administration.
