I am pleased to notify all CSN members about a new non-credit MHRT/C program starting at University of Maine at Augusta (UMA) in September. It is a statewide program, available at multiple ITV receive locations across the state, as well as directly from your own computer. The seven-week modules offered twice each semester, will enable students to become Provisionally and/or Fully certified quickly.

UMA has a long history of working in partnership with the Office of Adult Mental Health Services to develop and maintain a high quality educational system for the community mental health workforce of Maine. In fact, UMA was instrumental in the original development of the MHRT certifications.

This new, highly accessible program is a natural extension of UMA's past work and is tailored to the needs of adult learners. The courses are taught by UMA adjunct faculty with extensive experience working in the field, as well as teaching experience.

I am enthusiastic about the flexibility this program provides, and I encourage you to check it out further. Please see the attached documents for more details.
