Dear Sir/Ms:

The following questions have been received:

Question: Who is responsible for disconnecting the existing electric meter?

Response: MaineDOT will have the power shut off as part of demolition.

Question: Who is responsible for the temporary power pedestal?

Response: The contractor is responsible for the temporary power pedestal.

Question: Who is responsible for energy costs during construction?

Response: The contractor is responsible for any power costs until the building is accepted by MaineDOT.

Question: Who is responsible for Central Maine Power Co. charges?

Response: The contractor is responsible for any fees charged by CMP to reconnect power.

Question: Who is responsible for signage, what type and where?

Response: The contractor is NOT responsible for any signs; MaineDOT will install any required notification signs.

Consider this information prior to submitting your bid on April 2, 2008.

Sincerely,

Scott Bickford
