SagArr01

Arrowsic, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: The road leading from the old Stinson House and the shore also leads to the site of the Clarke & Lake Fort and Trading Post.

On August 14, 1676, Indians attacked the settlement and killed or captured all but three of the inhabitants. In February of the following year, troops came to recover the cannon and bury the dead. Where they were buried is not known but archaeological work now being carried on may turn up the location.

Drummond Cemetery

1761 - 1781

SagArr04

Arrowsic, Sagadahoc County, ME

Location: Approx. 200' south of the Pettie/Pattee Cemetery is the remains of the Drummond Cemetery. Only one badly broken stone could be deciphered; only small pieces of another stone remains and a footstone with initials "P.D.". The Drummond Family History states in 1889 the site was a cattle pasture and many stones were overturned and broken. Five whole stones that remained were removed to the Drummond Cemetery at Parker Head. The bodies apparently still remain in Arrowsic; west of the Pattee Cemetery are 50 - 60 fieldstones set in rows and unmarked.

Arrowsic, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: On the shore of Palace Cove on the east side of Arrowsic. Take the wood road across from the house where the Arrowsic Post Office used to be. At the log cabin, go northwest about 200 feet from the cabin. The single stone is lying at the foot of a large pine stump. Broken in several pieces, but is still legible.

The manuscripts of Arrowsic Families in the Genealogy Room of the Bath Public Library gives no clue to the parents or other relatives of this man. There were a number of families this name in Arrowsic. John and Isabella (Stinson) McPhetres had a son William born May 21, 1750. He could be William's father.

Dummer Street Cemetery

1794 - 1931

SagBath04

Bath, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: (** When Mr. Brown read the cemetery in 1973, the starred items were not found. Beacon St. had been built through the cemetery. This old cemetery is on the corner of Dummer and Beacon Streets. It is kept in good condition but quite a number of the stones are fallen, broken or otherwise illegible.)

Fairview Cemetery

1828 - 1973

SagBath06

Bath, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: This rather large cemetery is in the Winnegance section of Bath, about a quarter of a mile north of Lower High St. by a wood road impassable by car. The cemetery is in good condition with an iron fence around it. Quite a number of stones are broken and some are unreadable. There are many fieldstones. Some burial still take place in certain family lots.

Harrison Cemetery

1855 - 1891

SagBath08

Bath, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: On Bay Road about a quarter of a mile west of Hawkes' Greenhouse, walk south through fields along shore of Merrymeeting Bay for about a mile. The cemetery is near the shore but the whole area is overgrown with bushes. All the stones are down and one grave has obviously been dug into.

There are a few unmarked field stones. Nearby is the cellar hole for the old Harrison Farmhouse.

Trufant Burying Grounds

1799 - 1841

SagBath15

Bath, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: All that remains of the old cemetery is a grass plot on the corner of Spring and Middle St. A bronze plate on a boulder tells what it is, but no stone tells who is buried here. Bath Cemetery Department and Mary Pelham Hill give records of a few of the sixty two burials reported to have been here.

Almost certainly there is buried here David Trufant, Sr. who came to the area in 1735 and took a very prominent part in local affairs.
He was one of the participants in the King's Dock Affair. Sarah (Brooks) Trufant, David, Jr.' wife probably is buried here also.

1820 - 1895

SagBdn03

Bowdoin, Sagadahoc, Maine

Ward Cemetery

1846 - 1900

SagBdn20

Bowdoin, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: From Richmond Corner Rte 201, go left on Rte. 197 toward Litchfield. Go about 2 miles to Dead River Road and turn left. Go 1/2 mile until the road forks to two roads on the left, take the very 1st one, a very sharp left called the War Road. Go about 2 1/2 miles and on the left there is a stone wall perpendicular to the road (difficult to find). Follow the wall into the wooda about 1/4 mile through swampy land and it will come to higher ground where you will find the cemetery.

Niles Cemetery

1851 - 1879

SagBdn24

Bowdoin, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: Located at the site of a broken stone dam and a mill foundation where the original town of Bowdoin was located. A rough dirt road known as the Huffs Mill Road provides access to the site along the East Branch of the Cathance River. The cemetery measures about 30 feet wide by 60 feet long and is enclosed by a stone wall about 2 feet tall with an opening towards the road. There are a number of depressions indicating many unmarked graves.

Thy summons is hard to bear, Thou takest from earth, the good and the fair; Thou hast left us here in sorrow to mourn, The loss of the loved and cherished one. Can it be that the wealth of that fair white brow, Is moldering neath the earth's sod now; Has that lovely form no resting place, Save the chill dark grave and death's cold embrace. We will meet her again in that world of love, If we dwell on earth with our thoughts above. When we reach that glorious celestial shore, We shall join the loved just gone before. Oh! Not perchance is the records of time, In glowing words is written her name. But shrined in each heart that loved her well, Her memory ever shall sacred dwell"	SagBdn43	40

Bowdoinham, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: Tale left diagonal road 0 Rte. 138 south just Gardiner side of Richmond Corner; 2.2 miles (1.3 miles from Richmond - Bowdoinham line) cemetery is on right side at the back of an overgrown field. Before reaching 2.2 miles a monument can be sighted but is hidden from site by a large maple tree directly in line with it opposite cemetery. Iron fence.

The Mustard Family Tomb has been ransaked. Long bones and skulls are scattered around with wooden debris. A metal casket has been torn open and still contains some of the skeleton.

Bowdoinham, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: South from Gardiner on Rte. 201 a very small section of road passes through the corner of Bowdoinham. Just past the Richmond-Bowdoinham line #6012 in on the left side of road about 50' there are the remains of granit posts either down or brokwn off or in two, outlining an area about 35' by 40'

Phippsburg, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: On a point jutting into Sprague River

This cemetery is very well known. At one time there were many flat fieldstones set in pairs, one at the head and one at the foot. Now only a few stones are visible. Several members of the crew of the ship Hanover were buried in 1849, and a stone with the word Hanover carved in it, but this, too has disappeared. Who is buried here and how old the cemetery is not known.

Richmond, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: South towards Brunswick on 201 from Gardiner; 1 mile south of Pleasant Pond and Litchfield turnoff, turn right onto a dirt road walk in. There is one stone located on the present Sheet property which is up for sale, (June 9, 1971). Was purchased from a Mr. King who said Mrs. Mitchell was the original owner of the property. Her will requested that she be buried on the property and the deed states that the area is not to be disturbed.

Patten Cemetery

1832 - 1997

SagTop02

Topsham, Sagadahoc, Maine

Patten Cemetery is located on the Old Lewiston Road (Winter Street) about 1.3 miles from the village on the southwest side of the road. Composed of 18 markers as well as many unmarked burial sites. The graveyard is difficult to spot from the road as it is located on a rise between a house and access road and is well shaded by the large white pines which surround it. Markers 1 through 14 were not found in the latest survey in 2002 done by Donald and Mark Cheetham - but their map showed 3 raised burial plots with no markers.

SagTop05

Topsham, Sagadahoc, Maine

Location: On Middlesex Road (Rte. 24) across from the intersection of the Cathance Road about a mile north of Topsham Village. It is the former site of the First Parish Meeting House. Kept in fair condition with a number of illegible stones, quite a number of unmarked burials, and some marked with only field stones.

Elmlawn Cemetery

1838 - 1986

SagTop06

Topsham, Sagadahoc, Maine

Elmlawn cemetery also known as the White or Jack Cemetery is located on the Old Lewiston Road loop off the Lewiston Road (Rte 196) headed towards Lisbon Falls on the left past the road to Pejepscot Village. The cemetery is on the left side of the road and is composed of 61 markers and the perimeter is fenced. The earliest marked burial is 1838 and there are several WWI & WWII veterans buried here.
