

View 14: Filtered view from Lone Mtn. The wind turbines will not be visible.

View 8: Open view from edge of Sugarloaf Cirque. The wind turbines will not be visible from the Cirque.

View 9: Visualization from the summit of Sugarloaf Mountain, off the Appalachian Trail. Seven wind turbines will be visible at distances of 6.5 to 6.6 miles and occupy a 6° angle of view.

View 13: Visualization from Mount Abraham, side trail off the Appalachian Trail. The wind turbines will be visible at distances of 6.5 to 7.3 miles and occupy a 12° view angle.

View 11: Typical trail between Spaulding and Lone Mtns.

View 10: Typical wooded trail between Sugarloaf and Spaulding Mtns.

View 12: View of clear cuts as seen from Mount Abraham.

Map 6-8: Views from the Appalachian Trail
Black Nubble Wind Farm
Maine Mountain Power

July 2007

0 1/4 1/2 3/4 1
(In Miles)

Legend

- Trail opening in woods (no view of BNWF)
- Trail in woods (no views)
- Total angle of view
- Angle of view occupied by BNWF
- Area of filtered views of BNWF
- Photo viewpoint
- Area of open views of BNWF