

HEALTH EQUITY

This goal of this initiative is to encourage community-based organizations (CBOs) to implement their own COVID-19 prevention, education and support plans in partnership with the Department of Health and Human Services. Funding is made available to organizations that support individuals from Black, Indigenous, Latinx, Asian, or New Mainer communities who are disproportionately impacted by COVID-19. Services will be delivered to racially and ethnically diverse communities and fall into three categories of public health services:

- Public health education activities narrowly focused on COVID-19
- Physical distancing and public health prevention activities
- Culturally appropriate quarantine and isolation support activities