Subject: Label Restrictions
Brief Desc: label replant restrictions
Detailed Desc: Do label replant restrictions apply if the cover crop will not be harvested as food or forage? In other words, planted for conservation purposes only.

Response Information
Responder: Reuben Baris (baris.reuben@epa.gov)
Response Date: 04/13/2015
Response: Replant/plant-back restrictions apply even if the cover crop will not be harvested as food, feed or forage. The label must be amended to include appropriate application and management directions in cases where cover crops are being used for conservation purposes and will not be used for food or forage.
