PART III: SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

Services include:

- Automate - Create customizable site visit inspection templates that contain filter types to build surveys tailored to each water system based on unique characteristics of public drinking water systems. The templates automatically integrate with SDWIS/State and GEC provides SDWIS/State support, if needed, on the elements that are critical to our software.
- Collaborate - Conduct onsite electronic site visits that enable inspectors to complete surveys as a team. Review and accept surveys through a process that allows supervisors and managers to validate that survey details meet agency standards and EPA regulations.
- Integrate - Perform water system inventory updates before, during, and after an onsite survey.
- Customize - Tailor the survey workflow via administrator permission feature.
- Message - Send email messaging alerts to support collaboration between team members.
- Go Offline- Take a survey offline when no internet connection is available.
- Streamline - Complete surveys quickly while on-the-go using the streamlined intuitive mobile responsive interface that adapts to computers and mobile devices.
- Comply - Track issues from identification of the problem to resolution.

Report - View data in formats including charts, graphs, PDFs, or Word documents.

2. Provide a brief justification for the selected vendor to supplement the response in Part II.

Global Environmental Consulting (globalenvironmentalconsulting.com) was started in 1999 and since then has been working with States on compliance with the Safe Drinking Water Act. A key part of compliance for a State that uses SDWIS is the integration of software it uses with SDWIS; GEC is the only vendor providing sanitary survey inspection related software that is integrated with SDWIS that we are aware of. Maine has been using a GEC program for Water Operator Licensing for several years and has experience working with the company; GEC already has knowledge of the Maine DWP SDWIS structure. The Swift Survey software has been accepted by six other states for the same purpose that Maine is seeking to use the software, ultimately to help the state to remain in compliance with Safe Drinking Water Act.

3. Explain how the negotiated costs or rates are fair and reasonable; or how the funding was allocated to grantee.

No other company provides a competitive software offering. At this time, the same or similar costs, fees, and rates have been accepted by the following States: Louisiana, Ohio, Connecticut, Kansas, Rhode Island, Missouri, Nevada, and West Virginia, who have purchased Swift Surveys or the earlier version of the software: Swift Central.

4. Describe the plan for future competition for the goods or services.

The Department does not intend to competitively bid this service.
