Please respond to ALL of the questions in the following sections.

PART III: SUPPLEMENTAL INFORMATION

1. Provide a more detailed description and explain the need for the goods, services or grant to supplement the response in Part I.

Positive Behavioral Interventions and Supports (PBIS) is a research and evidence based multi-tiered system of support framework that benefits students, educators and school communities. The Maine Department of Education is scaling up this work across the state and to do this, additional support is necessary. The University of Connecticut’s Ms. Robbie will assist with content development, training and coaching that will aid in this goal.

This amendment extends the services for an additional year.

2. Provide a brief justification for the selected vendor to supplement the response in Part II. Reference the RFP number, if applicable.

Contracting with the University of Connecticut provides the Maine Department of Education the necessary connections to national and regional technical support expertise to effectively scale-up PBIS throughout Maine. The Neag School of Education at the University of Connecticut (UConn) is the top-ranked public research-intensive school of education in the Northeast and among the top 25 in the nation. The Department of Educational Psychology is consistently recognized as one of the most productive departments across the entire University in terms of research funding and scholarly output. Departmental faculty and staff have extensive experience coordinating large grants, and facilities are set up to promote efficient management of grants and projects.

The Center for Behavioral Education and Research (CBER), housed within the Neag School of Education, was founded to conduct research on both behavioral and academic practice. CBER has received over $40 million in federal and state grants and contracts over the last 10 years focused on researching and implementing academic and reading practices within MTSS frameworks. CBER is also a lead partner in the National Technical Assistance Center on Positive Behavior Interventions and Supports (PBIS).

Karen Robbie, the UConn staff who will conduct the work has served as the co-lead for the FEDES grant funded PBIS cohort in the past and has considerable knowledge and expertise about coordinating, training and coaching for PBIS. UConn’s leadership in the National TA center on PBIS and Dr. Robbie’s expertise in PBIS in Maine make them uniquely capable of doing the work outlined in this contract to build PBIS capacity and sustainability for Maine.

3. Explain how the negotiated costs or rates are fair and reasonable; or how the funding was allocated to grantee.

The rates are comparable to others who contract for education related services, and the funding was allocated to the grantee since she has the necessary expertise with a focus on Maine schools.

4. Describe the plan for future competition for the goods or services.

Any future need for improvement work across the state will be discussed and then processed in accordance with State procurement policies and procedures.
