I. COMMITMENT TO EMPLOYEES

An excellent company cares about the well-being of its employees. Indicate how the nominee has demonstrated concern for its employees and their development by addressing any or all of the following: its development of innovative human resource programs, child care services, wellness programs, internal or external educational initiatives, safety programs, wage incentive and employee recognition programs, job retention rates, or any other initiatives that demonstrate an abiding commitment to employees.

II. COMMITMENT TO COMMUNITY

An excellent company contributes to its community. This may be manifested as monetary or non-monetary support of the arts, charities, schools, institutions, or general support of people in need. Include a summary of the outstanding contributions made by the company, including specific information and exhibits such as newspaper articles or letters of appreciation, when available.

III. COMMITMENT TO CUSTOMER SATISFACTION AND MANUFACTURING AND/OR SERVICE EXCELLENCE

Excellence can, perhaps, most aptly be measured by customer satisfaction. It is a vital strategic measurement that is indicative of a company's success in gaining market share, customer loyalty and profitability. It comes from a systemic dedication to excellence from top management, employees, internal and external quality initiatives, streamlined processes and continuous innovation and change. How has the nominee excelled in these or related areas? What sets this firm apart from its competitors? Please speak to the nominee's commitment to customer satisfaction and its efforts to achieve manufacturing and/or service excellence. Consider exhibits such as customer or vendor testimonials, performance metrics, or other documentation of the company's superior efforts and results.
