To Whom it May Concern:

I am opposed to the CMP Corridor. I heard on the radio recently that Central Maine Power went as far as to say that one of the reasons the forest isn't "unbroken", is because there are streams which break up the land! That is absurdity to a very high degree. This was nothing more than a tactic, which only further served to show that CMP cannot make a reasonable case with the Maine people, and is on the wrong side of history.

We are not stupid, and we know a game when we see one--a game that does not serve the land or water, or the Maine people. We are running out of that which is pristine. It is up to all of us who understand that to push back on ideas made by those who don't understand it, or even worse, don't care.

Also, I fear for the health and safety of everything and everyone near these high voltage megatowers should this become a reality. I miss my old Maine--the way life used to be.

Sincerely, Riva O'Rourke
