As the owner of an EV, purchased over 2 years ago, I heartily endorse Maine's leadership in moving forward with initiatives that accelerate our adoption of and support for stronger Clean Car standards. My motivation and that of my EV-owning friends lies in our shared and serious concerns for the unfolding existential threat to our children and grandchildren if we don't take the climate crisis more seriously. As a retired research scientist I understand that the threat is not a 'hypothetical'. We need to act now if future generations are to have breathable air and a habitable planet!

Sincerely,

Chuck
