To who it may concern,

Why on earth would we want to enact this California Garbage law? Our current electrical grid cannot maintain the demand required to supply all these electric vehicles. Unless you are going to put in Nuclear power plants, that is the only way you are going to keep up with the power requirements. Can you also please tell me, how I as a farmer will be able to plow my "two miles of road" with an electric pickup truck?

Sorry but I cannot run a maple farm with a Tesla, just is not going to happen.

This rule will make it so expensive for the regular Maine people to work, travel and other wise live here in Maine. In essence you are driving the hard working, tax paying citizens out of the state of Maine, just like California has done.

By all means keep it up and this tax payer will move his family out of state and never come back.
