Dear Air Quality Bureau Cayting,

This program is not working in California, and it will not work in Maine. The energy infrastructure is not there, the technology is not there. This program is making a huge sweeping change and hoping that the solution to the problems that it will create will appear before it's too late.

I would love nothing more than to live in a world where most of the cars on the road are electric, but the technology and infrastructure simply is not here yet, now is not the time.

Sincerely,

Edward Winslow
