Dear Air Quality Bureau Cayting,

Please vote no to adopt Californias clean truck act. Maine is a unique state that has a vast areas where using electric vehicles is not practical. Yes a clean environment is important and industry should start building the infrastructure needed to support electric fleets, but at this time we are not there yet. This bill will cost jobs and force many smaller companies to close or take on debt they cannot afford. Let's work on getting the electrical infrastructure built. Jumping into all electric will have unintended consequences. Let's work on a steady transition and work on what will work in Maine and not look to another state to dictate what route to take.

Sincerely,

Terri Strouse
