With help from the
*Partners in Care
Coordination Program,

Families can be linked to resources they need for their children and help to navigate systems. Together, we can help children with special health needs grow to be their healthiest, and reach the full potential of their independence.

Partners in Care Coordination(PCC)

Partners in Care Coordination is a unique resource for families, health care providers, and communities. PCC's goal is to help improve the health, development and well-being of Maine's children with special health needs.

Who is eligible to receive PCC's services?

Partners in Care Coordination is available to families with children from birth through age 21 that have, or are at risk for, chronic medical conditions, behavioral and emotional conditions.

How can PCC help children and their families?

Families can turn to PCC for support, information, and referral to community services and resources.

PCC has assisted with:

- Insurance appeals
- Serving as an advocate
- "Thinking outside the box"
- Finding ways to get specialized items covered
- Putting you in touch with parent supports
- . . . and more

Care providers can also access PCC for support and information, as well as professional networking.

---

What else

PCC has partners throughout Maine that work with families, providers and communities to connect kids with the care they need and who can help coordinate that care over time.
