

Spotlight on Services

Rural Medical Access Program (RMAP)

The Rural Medical Access Program (RMAP) is jointly administered by Maine Rural Health and Primary Care Program and the Bureau of Insurance. The program promotes obstetrical and prenatal care in federally designated Medically Underserved Areas/Populations and Primary Care Health Professional Shortage Areas of Maine through assistance with insurance premiums for eligible obstetricians and family or general practice physicians. Applications will be accepted online: <https://submit.link/11T> through May 5th.

Priority 1 Eligibility

Physicians who:

1. Provide complete obstetrical care for patients, including prenatal care and delivery. A physician in an underserved area without a facility for obstetrical delivery may qualify if the physician provides all services except delivery services but has a referral agreement for delivery with a licensed physician who accepts and serves MaineCare patients;
2. Practice at least 50% of the time in a designated Primary Care Health Professional Shortage Area or Medically Underserved Area/Population and maintain a caseload that includes 10% MaineCare Patients; and
3. Subscribe to appropriate obstetrical malpractice insurance coverage for at least the period of July 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025.

Priority 2 Eligibility

Physicians who:

1. Provide complete obstetrical care for patients, including prenatal care and delivery. A physician in an underserved area without a facility for obstetrical delivery may qualify if the physician provides all services except delivery services but has a referral agreement for delivery with a licensed physician who accepts and serves MaineCare patients;
2. Practice in a service area with a population under 20,000 and maintain a caseload that includes 50% patients on MaineCare/from a designated Primary Care Health Professional Shortage Area or Medically Underserved Area/Population and
3. Subscribe to appropriate obstetrical malpractice insurance coverage for at least the period of July 1, 2025 to December 31, 2025.