

Phase one of attaining a Seafood HACCP Certification is to complete an online course.

The online portion for the Seafood HACCP Training course can be found at:
<http://seafoodhaccp.cornell.edu/Intro/index.html>

Once this online course is complete, you will receive a course completion email. Please forward that email to john.fendl@maine.gov

The second phase to completing the full HACCP certification is to attend a one day seminar.

This one day seminar is only offered about once a year and pre-registration is required. The person who schedules this Seafood HACCP course is:
