

Jason...

- reads at a 2nd grade level;
- ... loves interacting with people;
- ... is considered to have great social skills;
- ... thinks he would like to work as a receptionist.

There is a business that is interested in hiring Jason for a receptionist position but worried about his ability to share messages from people visiting or calling the office.