

Withdrawal Referendum Timeline

November 3, 2026 Ballot

The withdrawal statute allows the Commissioner to take up to 60 days to review a withdrawal plan for conditional approval. While the Commissioner's office will do its best to review these plans in a timely manner, this does not indicate we can turn this around immediately, especially if revisions are necessary.

Please consider submitting a draft version(s) to the Commissioner before the request for conditional approval so that concerns may be addressed before the official submission. This will expedite the conditional approval process once both parties have signed the agreement.

Deadline for Withdrawal Plan submission to the Commissioner for Conditional Approval

(The Commissioner has 60 days by law from submission date to approve or request changes – this date significantly reduces that timeline for approval to 30 days)
