Dear Sir/Ms:

The following questions have been received:

Question: Can the existing bituminous pavement be utilized for any other construction purposes other than as an additive into the new bituminous pavement? I am wondering if it can be used in lieu of the top 6" of aggregate Type D as a fine grade material or just as a surcharge.

Response: The contractor will not be permitted to use excavated pavement for fine grading. All excavated pavement shall be stock piled at the leased lot in Waterford and remain The Departments property, except for that which is needed for the approved Hot Mix Asphalt design.

Question: Once the processed pavement is stockpiled at the leased site on Rt. 118, can the material be reloaded and hauled back for use on the site?

Response: The material to be stockpiled at the leased lot in Waterford is the property of The Department and will not be reused on this project.

Consider this information prior to submitting your bid on November 3, 2010.

Sincerely,

Scott Bickford
Contracts & Specifications Engineer
