Self-Exclusion Policies – Philip Mantis, AAG.

AAG Mantis gave a slide presentation to bring to the Board's attention a point of confusion regarding the enforcement of a Board rule regarding self-exclusions, Chapter 13, section 6(B). The rule requires casinos to create systems and procedures within the casinos' responsible gaming programs designed to refuse access to the premises for self-excluded individuals. AAG Mantis advised that the responsible gaming programs currently do not contain such systems or procedures. AAG Mantis further advised that the Board could direct the casinos to resubmit their responsible gaming programs so the Board can assess whether they are compliant with Chapter 13 and also engage in rule making if the Board finds it necessary. The Board discussed the section and the casino's responsible gaming programs.

Director Champion indicated that individuals on the self-exclusion list will shortly be able to seek reinstatement as permitted by the Board's rules. Reinstatement and individuals who are seeking to be added to the self-exclusion list will also soon be able to request self-exclusion via a virtual process. The Unit is working closely with Lori Manson, of Adcare to perform the reinstatement interviews and create a workable reinstatement process.

Per Chair Silver's request, Director Champion agreed to send a letter to those individuals who are only on the Casinos' internal self-exclusion lists (the lists that existed to prior to the State's list) that will provide direction on how to apply to be on the State's list.

The Board decided to request that the casinos resubmit the portion of their responsible gaming programs that address self-exclusion and compliance with Chapter 13, and to subsequently hold a hearing during the March meeting to discuss whether the policies in the resubmitted responsible gaming programs and whether they fulfil the requirements in Chapter 13.

Board member Noel March moved to send a letter to the "legacy list" individuals as proposed by the draft. Board member Sari Greene seconded the motion. Motion moves to roll call.
