- ii. The legislative session has started, and Maine EMS has several department bills which center around the reformation of the EMS Board as part of the Blue Ribbon Commission's recommendations, verbiage changes in the Act that helped us establish the Regions to allow for trauma reporting, and community paramedicine affiliation with local agencies. Other bills of interest before the Legislature involve appropriating funding to the Maine Community College System to pay for EMT and Paramedic training, as well as funding for community paramedicine.
- iii. Maine EMS is continuing to work on hiring and will soon be interviewing for the Region Four Regional Manager position and the EMD Licensing Agent position.

c. Medical Directors' Update

Given by State Medical Director Matthew Sholl.

 - Debriefing for the next Protocol review process has begun; they are exploring developing a working group of MDPB members to streamline the process.
- ii. Many people are presenting with influenza-like symptoms. The illness is very active right now in Maine and nationally, and one strain in particular is very infectious and virulent.

- d. Regional Council Updates from Regional Managers
 - i. Region One (given by Maine EMS Staff Member Rob Galspy)—The Region One RAC has put in a lot of work developing their bylaws, which should be finalized and voted on in their February meeting.  - ii. Region Two (given by Maine EMS Staff Member Melissa Adams)—There are two nominations for representatives from the Region Two Council to serve on the Board: Steve Almquist from Auburn Fire and Chris Moretto from Winthrop Ambulance. Going forward, priorities will be to work on a set of bylaws, offering educational opportunities, and electing a chairperson.
 - iii. Region Three (given by Maine EMS Staff Member Jason Oko)—The full regional council has been successfully seated, and they have taken steps to appoint medical directors; Dr. Lowry was appointed as the Associate Regional Medical Director, and The Board will see the Region Three Medical Director nomination, Dr. Saquet, at its February meeting.
