Greetings Team:

Vermont offered households excellent Tesla storage batteries at a great price. Many citizens took advantage of this, thus both widely distributing energy storage capability for the grid and for individual homes. Further, the taxpayers monies were not given to our greedy rapacious Epstein class, but sold to 'we the people'.

Further, costs for individual solar home systems should be offered at a much more reasonable cost in Maine. Not by these greedy solar outfits who arise & fall after maximizing their reimbursement, with cheap systems that are dead by the time you own them. These are the best options for widespread storage , not owned by European Corporations soaking us for electricity. More household reasonable cost solar systems whose excess can be stored across Maine.

Stop the steal by corporations and Richy Rich of our tax dollars.
