

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS for the 2023 MAINE MIGRATORY WATERFOWL STAMP ART CONTEST

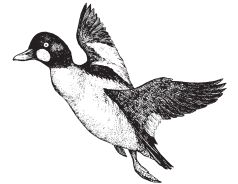

The Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife is conducting a competition to select a design for the 2023 Maine Migratory Waterfowl Hunting Stamp.

Read all rules carefully!

Any entry which fails to comply with any of the requirements of this competition may be disqualified.

Eligibility:

- Maine residents, 18 years of age or older, who have been domiciled in this state during the three (3) months immediately preceding the entry deadline for the contest, can submit one entry per contestant.
- The artist affirms that their entry is a drawing of their own creation, has not previously won another stamp contest (federal, state, or private), and the original design is neither copied nor duplicated from previously published art, including paintings, drawings in any medium, or published photographs; or from any images, of any kind, previously published on the Internet.
- Employees of the Maine Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife are not eligible to enter.

Important Dates and Deadlines:

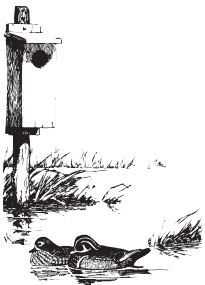

- Entries can be submitted in person, or by mail, beginning Wednesday, March 1, 2023. All entries must be received at the Department's main office in Augusta by 4pm on Friday, March 24, 2023.
- Judging will take place on the first day of the State of Maine Sportsman's Show, Friday, March 31, 2023, at 5:00 p.m., at the Augusta Civic Center.
- All entries will be on display for the duration of the Sportsman's Show. Non-winning entries can be picked up at the Department's main office, by appointment, starting Wednesday, April 5, 2023. If your painting is not picked up by the end of April 2023, it will be mailed backed to the address on the entry form.

After the contest:

- There will be a period of fifteen (15) days immediately following the contest judging during which any artist or photographer may make a plagiarism claim against the winning design. In the event any such claim is upheld by the Department of Inland Fisheries and Wildlife, the first runner-up shall be declared the winning design, subject itself to a 15-day plagiarism claim period.
- The winning design, as prepared by the artist, will be retained by the Department until the production of the Waterfowl Hunting Stamp has been completed. The Department shall retain exclusive copyright of said design for the purpose of stamps only. Copies and reproduction of said stamps may be published and distributed by the Department to others for copying, and publishing for educational and informational purposes. The Department shall also retain the right to use the winning image in publications, on the internet, and other media opportunities as appropriate.*

All other copyright other than described in this paragraph, shall be retained by the artist for their disposition.*

- If the winning artist decides to reproduce the original image in the form of prints, they agree to provide to the Department, at no cost, twenty-five (25) signed and numbered prints. Said prints must be numbered as Conservation Edition (CE) #1/25 to 25/25. Numbering to be just below and to the left side of image, and signed just below and to the right side of image. Signature and number to be done in pencil.

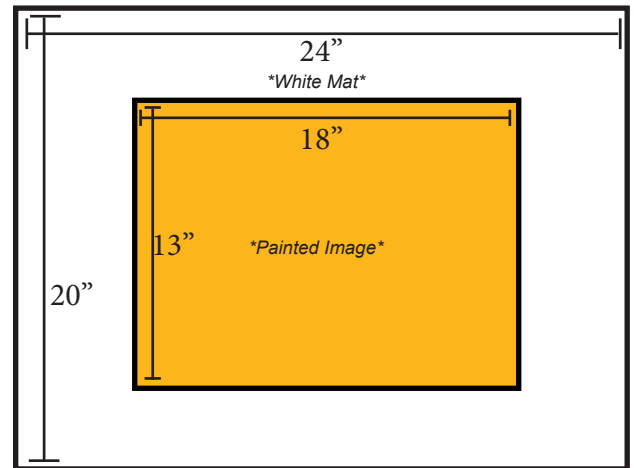

The winning artists:

- First place winner may be required to make minor changes to their design.
- First place winner will be required to provide their signature on stamps at no cost to the Department.
- First place winner will be ineligible to compete in the next consecutive Maine duck stamp contest, but is asked to be a judge in the next consecutive contest, if available.
- First place winner will retain ownership of the winning entry and will receive an award of $1,000 and a sheet 10 stamps of their design.
- Second place will receive an award of $300, third place will receive an award of $100, and two Honorable Mentions will receive a gift item from the Department.

Specifications:

- The 2023 Maine “duck stamp” species will be the Mallard. One or more waterfowl of the chosen species must appear dominantly in the design and must be portrayed as alive in their natural habitat.
- Background detail included in the design must be minimal, accurate, and representative of the state of Maine.
- No scroll work, lettering, bird band numbers, accent borders, signature, or initials may appear on the front, or back, of the painting or mat.
- None of the information printed on a finished duck stamp may appear on the painting or mat.
- The design is to be two-dimensional, in full color, and in the medium (or combination) of the artist’s choosing; except that no photographic process, digital art, metallic paints, iridescent paints, or fluorescent paints may be used in the finished design. All art must be dry at the time of submission.
- Designs will be judged on originality, artistic composition, anatomical accuracy, and suitability for reproduction as a stamp.
- All entries must be uniform in size. The painted image must be exactly 13 inches vertically by 18 inches horizontally (this is important for stamp production) and centered on top of a sturdy surface that is 20 inches vertically and 24 inches horizontally (masonite or foamcore, for example). For purposes of stability of your entry, it is required that your single bright white mat must also be exactly 20 inches vertically by 24 inches horizontally, with a centered open window of exactly 13 inches vertically by 18 inches horizontally. Entries should be less than 1/2” thick.
- The painting, mat, and any backing, must all be firmly, but not permanently, adhered to each other.
- The painting cannot be framed or under glass. Any protective covering must be lightly attached to facilitate removal before judging.

All contestants are advised that it is their responsibility to obtain adequate property insurance for their contest submission. The Department will not insure any entry it receives, and assumes no liability for any damage, loss, or theft of any entry.
