LD 49

An Act to Amend the Drug Laws Related to Possession of a Firearm

Sponsor(s) | Committee Report | Amendments Adopted
BENOIT | OTP-AM | S-278

LD 49 proposed to amend the criminal code by excluding the mere possession of a firearm as an aggravating factor in an offense of trafficking or furnishing scheduled drugs. This bill proposed to require that the firearm be somehow directly related to the criminal activity; the defendant must have used, carried or been armed with a firearm while engaged in trafficking or furnishing a scheduled drug in order for the offense to be elevated to the aggravated category. This change to the criminal code would make Maine law consistent with federal law, 18 United States Code, Section 924 (1976), which aggravates drug offenses whenever a defendant "uses or carries" a firearm, but not when a firearm is merely somewhere on the premises when a drug offense occurs.

Committee Amendment "A" (S-278) proposed to specify that for possession of a firearm to be an aggravating factor in an offense of trafficking or furnishing scheduled drugs, a person must possess the firearm in furtherance of the offense. This is consistent with 18 United States Code, Section 924(c)(1)(A). The amendment also proposed to add a fiscal note to the bill.

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1999, chapter 342 amends the criminal code by specifying that for possession of a firearm to be an aggravating factor in an offense of trafficking or furnishing scheduled drugs, a person must possess the firearm in furtherance of the offense. This is consistent with 18 United States Code, Section 924(c)(1)(A).

Note: LD 2255, An Act to Make Corrections to Laws Recently Enacted by the 119th Legislature, Public Law 1999, chapter 531 corrects conflicts that were created when P. L. 1999, c. 342 and other drug laws were enacted simultaneously.

LD 268 proposed to make it a Class D crime for a person not authorized by law to intentionally point a laser device at another person. This prohibition of the use of laser devices is similar to provisions in current law pertaining to the use of disabling chemicals such as mace and pepper spray. The bill was proposed as emergency legislation due to the health dangers and safety risks posed by the misdirecting of laser devices at people.
Committee Amendment "A" (H-300) proposed to replace the bill. The amendment proposed to redefine the offense "criminal use of a laser pointer." As proposed, a person is guilty of criminal use of a laser pointer if:

1. The person intentionally, knowingly or recklessly points a laser pointer at another person, while the laser pointer is emitting a laser beam, and causes bodily injury to that other person;

2. That other person is a law enforcement officer in uniform; or

3. The person causes a reasonable person to suffer intimidation, annoyance or alarm.

The amendment proposed to specify that it is a defense to a prosecution under this section that at the time of the laser pointer's use the person who intentionally, knowingly or recklessly pointed a laser pointer at another person was justified in threatening or using physical force upon the other person. The amendment also proposed to allow the State to confiscate laser pointers. The amendment also adds a fiscal note.

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1999, chapter 163 creates the crime of criminal use of laser pointers. A person is guilty of criminal use of a laser pointer if:

2. That other person is a law enforcement officer in uniform; or

3. The person causes a reasonable person to suffer intimidation, annoyance or alarm.

Violation of 1 or 2 above is a Class D crime and violation of 3 is a Class E crime.

Public Law 1999, chapter 163 also specifies that is a defense to a prosecution that at the time of the laser pointer’s use the person who pointed a laser pointer at another person was justified in threatening or using physical force upon the other person. Public Law 1999, chapter 163 further allows the State to confiscate laser pointers that constitute the basis for conviction.

LD 272 proposed to establish the Commission to Study High-speed Chases. As proposed, the commission would have consisted of the following 11 members: 2 Legislators, 2 members of the public and 7 law enforcement officials.

The bill proposed to require that the commission study current law enforcement policies governing the use of high-speed chases, the history of high-speed chases in Maine and other states' use of high-speed chases. The bill proposed to require that the commission report its findings to the Joint Standing Committee on Criminal Justice by December 1, 1999. The bill further proposed that the Joint Standing Committee on Criminal Justice may submit legislation in the Second Regular Session of the 119th Legislature to implement the commission's recommendations.
Committee Amendment "A" (H-63) proposed to rename the resolve and make changes to incorporate into the scope of the study commission review of emergency responses as well as high-speed chases by law enforcement officers. The amendment proposed to expand membership of the commission to 13 members. LD 308  An Act to Implement the Recommendations of the 118th Legislative Joint CARRIED OVER Select Committee to Implement a Program for the Control, Care and Treatment of Sexually Violent Predators

MURRAY  THOMPSON

LD 308 comprises the unanimous statutory recommendations of the Joint Select Committee to Implement a Program for the Control, Care and Treatment of Sexually Violent Predators, created by Joint Order, House Paper 1653, 118th Maine Legislature. The complete recommendations and background information are contained in the Select Committee's final report.

This bill proposes to make a number of changes to the current punishment provisions in the Maine Criminal Code, Part III in an effort to allow courts to deal more effectively with the dangerous sexual offender. These changes provide for longer terms of imprisonment, longer periods of probation and the imposition of supervised release when a term of imprisonment expires.

The bill proposes to define what is meant by "dangerous sexual offender." The definition targets those sexual offenders who commit a new gross sexual assault under the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, section 253 after having been previously convicted and sentenced for a serious sexual assault. Because prior intervention of the criminal justice system has failed to deter the offender and because the offender's own repetitive criminal behavior currently serves as the most accurate indicator of future dangerousness, the new sentencing options are consistent with the "just deserts" philosophy of the Maine Criminal Code and serve primarily to enhance public safety through restraint and post-release management. The bill proposes 4 changes respecting punishment for the dangerous sexual offender.

First, Title 17-A, section 1252, subsection 4-B removes the current ceiling for terms of imprisonment for the "dangerous sexual offender." A court is authorized to impose a straight term of imprisonment or a split term of imprisonment of "any term of years."

Second, Title 17-A, section 1202, subsection 1-A removes the current probation period caps for the "dangerous sexual offender." A court is authorized to impose a period of probation of "any term of years."

Third, Title 17-A, chapter 50 proposes a new post-release mechanism identified as "supervised release." Supervised release is used in conjunction with the imposition of a straight term of imprisonment and is modeled to some degree upon federal law regarding supervised release (see 18 U.S.C. §3583). A term of supervised release of "any term of years" may be imposed by a court at the time of imposing a straight term of imprisonment. Sanctioning for a violation of a supervised release operates as does sanctioning for a violation of probation. As with probation, the sanction imposed upon revocation is intended to sanction the violator for failing to abide by the court-ordered conditions. Even in the context of new criminal conduct, the violator is sanctioned for the breach of trust, leaving the actual punishment for any new underlying criminal conduct to the court ultimately responsible for imposing punishment for that new crime.

Fourth, the bill replaces Title 17-A, section 1203, subsection 1 with subsection 1-A to allow the court to revoke probation if, during the initial unsuspended portion of the term of imprisonment, a person sentenced as a "dangerous sexual offender" refuses to actively participate in a sex offender treatment program, in accordance with the expectations and judgment of the treatment providers, when requested to do so by the Department of Corrections. By virtue of new Title 17-A, section 1233, supervised release may be revoked by a court before the completion of the straight term of imprisonment.

Finally, the bill also provides for the inclusion of a period of supervised release after imprisonment for any person convicted of a Title 17-A, section 253 offense. Unlike the dangerous sexual offender group, however, the length of the period authorized depends upon the class of the gross sexual assault for which the person is convicted (up to 10 years for a Class A section 253 violation and up to 6 years for a Class B or Class C section 253 violation). Additionally, as is true of the dangerous sexual offender group, the time of additional imprisonment to serve may equal all or part of the period of supervised release with no credit being given for any time actually served on supervised release, but may not exceed 1/3 of the straight term of imprisonment imposed.

Committee Amendment "A" (S-279) proposes to strike sections 2 and 3 of the bill and changes the history line of section 5 of the bill to account for changes made by Public Law 1999, chapter 24, sections 2 and 3. The amendment also proposes to add a fiscal note to the bill.

2. Expressly recognize in Title 17-A, section 34, subsection 4 that, in addition to specific elements of a crime not being accompanied by a culpable mental state by legislative design, the Legislature can also impose criminal liability relative to an entire criminal statute without requiring proof by the State of a culpable mental state as to any of the elements of that crime. 3. Define "strict liability crime" in a new subsection 4-A in Title 17-A, section 34 and provide for its use in subsection 4 of that section as a nonexclusive legislative means of expressly signaling an intent to impose criminal liability without the State having to prove a culpable state of mind as to any of the elements of the crime;

LD 791 proposed to remove the sentencing alternative of unconditional discharge from the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, chapter 49, section 1201 of the Criminal Code and give it unique treatment in new chapter 54-D, section 1346. An Act to Ensure Just Sentences CARRIED OVER

LD 1202 proposes to amend the mandatory minimum sentence for the crime of murder to accommodate the substantial reduction in earned good time and meritorious good time effective October 1, 1995. The 1995 amendment required that the parties and the sentencing courts adjust their sentencing recommendations and practices to accommodate the increase in the actual period of incarceration resulting from the significant decrease in good time. In the case of 25-year minimum sentences, such an adjustment is not possible. This bill proposes to partially address this inequity by reducing the minimum mandatory sentence to 20 years.

LD 1202 proposes to provide a "safety valve" for sentencing courts in cases where a mandatory minimum sentence would result in substantial injustice and a frustration of the general purposes of sentencing as outlined in the Maine Criminal Code. The bill proposes to allow the court to take into consideration documented evidence of severe hardship to the offender as well as the wishes of the victim.

Finally, LD 1202 proposes to remove mandatory minimum sentences for the crime of aggravated trafficking or furnishing scheduled drugs.

3. Authorize the Department of the Attorney General to hire one Research Assistant to help administer the Victims’ Compensation Fund; and

4. Add a fiscal note and an allocation provision to the bill.

House Amendment "A" to Committee Amendment "A" (H-465) proposed to change language regarding the circumstances under which a victim is eligible for compensation based on psychological injury from the Victims' Compensation Fund.

Enacted law summary

3. Clarifies the list of eligible expenses and losses and adds costs of cleaning up a crime scene;

4. Removes the requirement of notarization of an application;

5. Makes an applicant subject to the penalties for unsworn falsification;

6. Provides that a signed application is effective under state law to authorize the release of health care and employment information. The signed application would comply with the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 22, section 1711-C, subsection 3; and

7. Authorizes the Department of the Attorney General to hire one Research Assistant to help administer the Victims' Compensation Fund.
LD 1782 proposed to amend the laws governing the crime of improper gifts to public servants to more closely align these laws with the laws governing legislative ethics.

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1999, chapter 149 amends the laws governing the crime of improper gifts to public servants to more closely align these laws with the laws governing legislative ethics. PL 1999, chapter 149 adds another element of proof that requires showing of a quid pro quo benefit, instead of the potential for such a benefit. Specifically, a public servant may not accept a pecuniary benefit if the public servant knows or should know that purpose of the benefit is to influence that public servant’s actions or reward that public servant for past actions.

LD 1803 proposes to require probation officers to arrest and bring a motion to revoke the probation of a person who, while on probation, commits a criminal violation of a protection from abuse order issued against that person. The bill also proposes to require the court to revoke probation if the court finds by a preponderance of the evidence that the person committed the crime.

This bill has been carried over to the Second Regular Session.

LD 1821 proposed to remove “voluntary conduct” from the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, section 31 in chapter 2 of the Maine Criminal Code and enact a new section 103-B in chapter 5. New section 103-B proposed to treat the issue as a "defense" under section 101, subsection 4 of the Maine Criminal Code, rename the issue "involuntary conduct" and describe what constitutes involuntary rather than voluntary conduct. Although in State v. Case, 672 A.2d 586 (Me. 1996) the Law Court treated section 31 as a "defense," in State v. Therrien, 695 A.2d 119 (Me. 1997), p. 123 n. 7 the Court stated that "Section 31 does not fall within the purview of and must be distinguished from the general rules governing defenses; affirmative defenses and justification set forth in Chapter 5 of 17-A M.R.S.A. (1983)." State v. Therrien leaves unclear how the issue of "voluntary conduct" is to be legally treated, in view of the court's assertion that the general rules of chapter 5 are inapplicable. The bill proposed to seek to clarify this ambiguity.
This bill was submitted on behalf of the Criminal Law Advisory Commission.

House Amendment "A" (H-339) proposed to change the title to clarify that involuntary conduct is a defense in the Maine Criminal Code.

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1999, chapter 195 removes "voluntary conduct" from the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, section 31 in chapter 2 of the Maine Criminal Code and enacts a new section 103-B in chapter 5. New section 103-B expressly treats the issue as a "defense" under section 101, subsection 4 of the Maine Criminal Code, renames the issue "involuntary conduct" and describes what constitutes involuntary rather than voluntary conduct.

LD 1858 proposes to prohibit the use, possession and control of a firearm by a person convicted of certain Class D or Class E crimes of domestic violence. The prohibition lasts until the person has served the sentence resulting from the conviction.

A crime of domestic violence is defined as a crime in which:

1. The person used or attempted to use physical force, or threatened to use a deadly weapon; and

2. The person and the victim have or had a family-like relationship. Specifically, the person committing the crime must be a current or former spouse, parent or guardian of the victim; a person with whom the victim has a child; or a person who is cohabiting with or has cohabited with the victim as a spouse, parent or guardian or has a similar relationship.

In addition, the person who was convicted must have had the assistance of counsel in the proceeding or must have knowingly and intelligently waived the assistance of counsel. A final requirement is that if the person had a right to a jury trial for the domestic violence prosecution, then the case must have been tried by a jury or the person must have knowingly and intelligently waived the right to a trial by jury.

This bill has been carried over to the Second Regular Session.
LD 1871 proposed to restructure the laws governing probation revocation and probation violation. The bill proposed to separate the procedures for probation revocation by arrest and by summons and also make the following substantive changes.

1. Require that when a person arrested for a violation of probation is held subsequent to a preliminary hearing, the motion for probation revocation must be filed within five days of the arrest. In addition, when such a person is not sooner released, an initial appearance must be held by the court within 14 days of the arrest;

2. Codify the practice that has developed whereby initial appearances are conducted on motions for revocation of probation and set forth procedures governing initial appearances on motions to revoke probation;

3. Make clear that a court may find a violation of probation, but nevertheless utilize none of the initially suspended sentence. This commonly occurs when a person on probation admits a violation of probation but, prior to final disposition, remedies the situation to the satisfaction of the attorney for the State and the court, for example, by paying restitution owed. The bill proposed to eliminate an ambiguity that exists under current law as to whether this practice is authorized and make clear that the running of the period of probation is tolled between the date the proceedings are commenced and the date of final disposition, even if no part of the original suspension order is modified; and

4. Provide the same protection to persons entering into an agreement with the attorney for the State for disposition of a motion to revoke probation as is currently provided under the Maine Rules of Criminal Procedure for persons entering guilty pleas to substantive charges. As proposed, the person on probation is provided the opportunity to withdraw that person's admission if the court deems the agreed upon disposition too lenient and intends to enter a harsher disposition than that agreed to.

This bill was submitted on behalf of the Criminal Law Advisory Commission.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-427) proposed to do the following:

1. Clarify that a preliminary hearing is not required if a person is charged with or convicted of a new offense and is incarcerated as a result of the pending charge or conviction;

2. Specify that a motion for probation revocation must be approved by the prosecuting attorney;

3. Continue to use failure to hold a preliminary hearing as grounds for a person's release;

4. Specify that at an initial appearance the court shall advise the probationer of the right to be represented by counsel at a hearing and that if the probationer can not afford counsel the court shall appoint counsel.

Enacted law summary

Public Law 1999, chapter 246 restructures the laws governing probation revocation and probation violation. It separates the procedures for probation revocation by arrest and by summons. Specifically, Public Law 1999, chapter 246 makes the following substantive changes:

1. Requires that when a person arrested for a violation of probation is held subsequent to a preliminary hearing, the motion for probation revocation must be filed within five days of the arrest and when such a person is not sooner released, an initial appearance must be held by the court within 14 days of the arrest;

2. Clarifies that a preliminary hearing is not required if a person is charged with or convicted of a new offense and is incarcerated as a result of the pending charge or conviction;
3. Specifies that a motion for probation revocation must be approved by the prosecuting attorney;
4. Continues to use failure to hold a preliminary hearing as grounds for a person's release;
5. Specifies that at an initial appearance the court shall advise the probationer of the right to be represented by counsel at a hearing and that if the probationer can not afford counsel the court shall appoint counsel.
6. Codifies the practice that has developed whereby initial appearances are conducted on motions for revocation of probation and sets forth procedures governing initial appearances on motions to revoke probation.
7. Makes clear that a court may find a violation of probation, but nevertheless utilize none of the initially suspended sentence.
8. Makes clear that the running of the period of probation is tolled between the date the proceedings are commenced and the date of final disposition, even if no part of the original suspension order is modified; and
9. Provides a person on probation the opportunity to withdraw that person's admission if the court deems the agreed upon disposition too lenient and intends to enter a harsher disposition than that agreed to.

LD 2009 proposed to bring the treatment of heroin into conformity with the treatment of other similarly dangerous drugs under the criminal code and eliminate the concept of "presumption" as to intent. The bill proposed that the definition of "trafficking" include the possession of 2 or more grams or 90 or more packets of heroin with no further proof of intent needed. The bill proposed to amend the definition of "furnishing" to include the possession of one or more but less than 2 grams or 45 or more but less than 90 packets of heroin with no further proof of intent required. The bill does not propose to change current law in that possession of any amount of heroin with the intent to do any act in the Maine Revised Statutes, Title 17-A, section 1101, subsection 17, paragraph C continues to be "trafficking" and possession of any amount of heroin with the intent to do any act in Title 17-A, section 1101, subsection 18, paragraph A continues to be "furnishing." The bill also proposed to provide for the trafficking of 4 or more grams or more than 180 packets of heroin to be included in the offense of aggravated trafficking in or furnishing of scheduled drugs, also to bring the treatment of heroin in line with the treatment of cocaine and cocaine base. The amounts of heroin referred to in the bill, 45, 90 and 180 packets, relate to the common practice of selling heroin in increments of 50 packets and the tendency of addict-traffickers to consume several packets of the drug during the trip from the source city, usually out of state, to their place of residence in Maine.

Committee Amendment "A" (H-456) proposed to change from 4 grams to 6 grams and from 180 bags to 270 bags the amount of heroin required for aggravated trafficking or furnishing. The amendment also proposed to add a fiscal note to the bill.

LD 2018 proposed to provide that in the event a defense is precluded solely because the statutory requirement that the person's belief be reasonable has not been met, conviction of a crime for which recklessness or criminal negligence suffices is nonetheless available to the State if the State can prove beyond a reasonable doubt to the fact finder that the person's holding of the belief is grossly deviant from what a reasonable and prudent person would believe in the same situation. As proposed, the modification would eliminate the current requirement that holding the belief be analyzed under the distinct culpable mental states of acting "recklessly" or with "criminal negligence," as defined in the Maine Revised Statutes, Maine Criminal Code, Section 35, and also the further requirement for criminal liability that the crime charged be satisfied by the same culpable mental state. LD 2214 proposed to change the permissible sentences for the crime of murder under certain circumstances. The bill proposed to require that a separate sentencing proceeding be held for murder convictions, and that the jury for that proceeding must recommend either a sentence of life in prison or a sentence of death. As proposed, a sentence of death is permissible only when the murder caused the death of 2 or more people or when the murder was especially heinous, atrocious or cruel. As proposed, death sentences would be automatically reviewable by the Supreme Judicial Court and may be set aside if the Court finds the sentence excessive or disproportionate to the sentences imposed in similar cases.

As proposed, if a person is sentenced to death and the Supreme Judicial Court affirms the sentence, the Governor is required to issue a warrant directing the warden of the state prison to execute the sentence. As proposed, the Governor must stay an execution if the person is mentally ill or pregnant, and if the Governor unjustifiably fails to issue a warrant, the Attorney General may petition the Supreme Judicial Court for such a warrant, and the Court is required to issue one. The bill proposed that a death sentence must be carried out through lethal injection.
