

Wood Frame Style

- Features: "Stick-built" wood structures which typically have wood trusses for roof and are built on top of a standard concrete wall.
- There are about 30 of these municipal buildings in Maine ranging from a capacity of 200 to 3,000 cubic yards.

Wood frame with vinyl siding.

Typical roof truss with lots of wasted space.

Wood frame with side loading doors.

Wood frame structure with 1,200 cubic yard capacity and a roof truss system.