Oct-15-2021	Non-Governmental Organizations	FY22 Women's Studio Workshop: Art-in-Education Artist Book Residency	Funding not identified. Allocated: $0	Works to operate and maintain an artist's workspace that encourages the voice and vision of individual women and trans, intersex, nonbinary, and genderfluid artists. WSW provides professional opportunities for artists at various stages of their careers. The Women's Studio Workshop in Rosendale, New York, works to operate and maintain an artist's workspace that encourages the voice and vision of individual women and trans, intersex, nonbinary, and genderfluid artists. WSW provides professional opportunities for artists at various stages of their careers and promotes programs designed to stimulate public involvement, awareness, and support for the visual arts. WSW is accepting applications for its Art-in-Education Artist's Book Residency, which will provide an up-to ten-week residency to two emerging women artists to create a new artist's book and teach young people in WSW studios. Generally, the resident dedicates her first month to producing a limited-edition artist's book, which is hand-printed and bound in the studio. WSW can provide technical advice; training on new equipment, techniques, and materials; and production assistance. During the second half of the residency, the artist works with young people in WSW's studios, teaching one to two days per week for three to four weeks, and visiting the students twice in school. Studio space and equipment is reserved for students during program hours, but artists may work at any time outside of AIE. The program provides a stipend of $350 per week for up to ten weeks, up to $750 for materials, and up to $250 for travel within the continental United States. Free onsite housing, and 24/7 studio access during non-AIE sessions will also be provided. Feb-22-2021	Operation H.O.P.E	Operation H.O.P.E. - Helping Other People Everywhere	Funding not identified. Allocated: $0	Engages local organizations, churches & institutions to foster collaboration to utilize community resources. To support populations typically forgotten by society: homeless, orphans/foster children, senior citizens, prisoners, inner-city, the oppressed. Operation H.O.P.E., Inc. (Helping Other People Everywhere) was formally established in July of 2009 as a 501 (c)(3) non-profit organization to address the various social issues that challenge our society. After two decades of experience in mission work with populations effected by poverty and oppression, Dr. Elliot Shin decided to share his passion and invites the public to join with him to continue the work of serving and caring for others. The vision of Operation H.O.P.E., Inc. is to help those who cannot help themselves by restoring their dignity, respecting their gifts and talents, and empowering them to rebuild their lives. Operation H.O.P.E. exists to provide help to populations that are typically forgotten by society such as the homeless, orphans/foster children, senior citizens, prisoners, inner-city, and the oppressed people. Allocated: $0	Provides a roadmap of a coordinated pandemic response that aims to improve the effectiveness of US response to COVID-19. It outlines an actionable plan across the federal government to address the COVID-19 pandemic. Through release of the National Strategy for COVID-19 Response and Pandemic Preparedness, the United States is initiating a coordinated pandemic response that not only improves the effectiveness of our fight against COVID-19, but also helps restore trust, accountability and a sense of common purpose in our response to the pandemic. The National Strategy provides a roadmap to guide America out of the worst public health crisis in a century. It outlines an actionable plan across the federal government to address the COVID-19 pandemic, including twelve initial executive actions issued by President Biden on his first two days in office: The National Strategy is organized around seven goals: 1. Restore trust with the American people. 2. Mount a safe, effective, and comprehensive vaccination campaign. 3. Mitigate spread through expanding masking, testing, data, treatments, health care workforce, and clear public health standards. 4. Immediately expand emergency relief and exercise the Defense Production Act. 5. Safely reopen schools, businesses, and travel while protecting workers. 6. Protect those most at risk and advance equity, including across racial, ethnic and rural/urban lines. 7. Restore U.S. leadership globally and build better preparedness for future threats. Online Application process opens January 7, 2021, where 100 recipients will be selected and grants disbursed in late January. Round 2 will open in February 2021. When we were faced with the pandemic caused by COVID-19, BeyGOOD created a plan to make a difference. We assisted organizations across the country that were providing people with basic needs like food, water, household supplies and COVID testing. We also provided mental health support. We then launched our BeyGOOD Small Business Impact fund and to date over 250 small businesses have received $10k grants. Beyoncé is continuing her heart of support and helping where needed most. Phase Two of the BeyGOOD Impact Fund will now help those impacted by the housing crisis. The housing moratorium is set to end on December 26th, resulting in mortgage foreclosures and rental evictions. Many families are impacted, due to the pandemic that resulted in job loss, sickness and overall economy downturn. This holiday season, while many are stressed with what they will do next regarding their housing, we are proud to share some GOOD news. 				disaster. USACE is prepared and ready to respond to natural and man-made disasters. Each year, the US Army Corps of Engineers (USACE) deploys hundreds of its trained personnel and resources across the United States and its territories to respond to emergencies and aid in disaster response and recovery. Under the National Response Framework (NRF) and authorities of the Stafford Act, USACE works under the direction of FEMA as a member of the federal team to support State and Local governments in responding to major disasters. USACE also has its own authority to directly respond to State and Local needs related to flooding or coastal emergencies under Public Law 84-99. The NRF defines 15 Emergency Support Functions (ESF's) with each having a designated Coordinating Agency. As the coordinating and primary agency for Emergency Support Function #3 – Public Works and Engineering, USACE is responsible for coordinating and executing several missions in the post-disaster environment. The core missions are listed below. However, it is commonplace for FEMA to request additional support and technical assistance beyond these core mission areas: • Temporary Emergency Power. • Debris Management. • Temporary Housing & Critical Public Facilities. • Temporary Roofing. • Infrastructure Assessment, Technical Assistance and Water/Wastewater Response. • Support to Urban Search & Rescue (US&R). OUR MISSION: The mission of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers is to deliver vital public and military engineering services; partnering in peace and war to strengthen our nation's security, energize the economy, and reduce risks from disasters. districts to improve student achievement through a rigorous math and science curriculum; professional development opportunities for teachers; and management capacity improvement. (2) Employee Programs: Through the GE Foundation Matching Gifts Program; GE employees can donate to an eligible nonprofit organization and GE Foundation will provide a dollar-for-dollar match. Total gifts in 2012 reached nearly $38 million. (3) Disaster Relief: When disasters strike; the GE family commits resources and employee support to assist affected communities. GE Foundation commits resources via grants to relief organizations and through the GE Foundation Matching Gifts Program. In addition; GE volunteers work through networks at the disaster sites to organize local support and align employees in the region. Key partners include GE employees; International Red Cross; UNICEF; AmeriCares; and Save the Children. Some recent examples of GE Foundation disaster relief efforts in the United States include: A) Oklahoma Tornado (2013) After a severe tornado caused destruction in the suburbs of Oklahoma City; GE and the GE Foundation committed equipment and funding to support relief and recovery efforts. This included donating GE Healthcare medical equipment and accessories to a regional hospital. The GE Foundation also announced a $250;000 donation to the American Red Cross Disaster Giving Program in addition to its annual $1 million grant to the organization. B) Superstorm Sandy (2012) The GE Foundation donated a total of $5.8 million in support of Superstorm Sandy relief-and-recovery efforts in New York; New Jersey; and Connecticut including $4 million to the Robin Hood Foundation to support longer-term housing; physical and mental health services; food banks; and local economic recovery in hard-hit communities. C) Tornado in Joplin; Missouri (2011) GE is a member of the American Red Cross Annual Disaster Giving Program (ADGP). Thanks to annual $1 million contributions to the Disaster Relief Fund (DRF) from ADGP members; the Red Cross can respond immediately to the needs of individuals and families affected by disasters anywhere in the United States. In May 2011; a major tornado hit Joplin; killing at least 116 people and devastating the town. The American Red Cross responded quickly by coordinating with emergency officials and local community partners to help people impacted by the tornado get back on their feet. Some immediate actions included providing shelter; food; emotional support; and other assistance to people in need. (4) Public Policy: GE Foundation funds initiatives that enhance public policy dialogue. Its support in this area encourages constructive dialogue with key stakeholders. This involvement helps GE Foundation identify and learn about the next generation of policy issues in order to work toward effective solutions to

Nov-05-2020	Charles Lafitte Foundation (CLF)	Charles Lafitte Foundation (Rolling Deadline)	Funding not identified.	The Charles Lafitte Foundation (CLF) supports organizations working in four main areas: education, children's advocacy, medical research & issues, and the arts. The Charles Lafitte Foundation is the family foundation for Jeffrey and Suzanne Citron. Since 1999, CLF has given to more than 200 organizations and granted more than $11 million in support. CLF supports innovative and effective ways of helping people help themselves and others around them to achieve healthy, satisfying and enriched lives. The Foundation supports organizations working in four main areas: education, children's advocacy, medical research & issues, and the arts. • EDUCATION: The mission of the Education Program is to encourage the attainment of knowledge and skills and the practice of responsible citizenship through access to effective learning opportunities. The foundation is committed to improving the "quality of life" of children by supporting programs which encourage children to reach their fullest potential. The best chance a child has to reach that goal is to be provided with sufficient education, health care, housing, and love. As one of the primary outlets of human creativity, art is a vital resource in developing and maintaining healthy communities. As school budgets are often short on cultural opportunities, the foundation will favor educational programs that encourage students to release their creativity, inspire them to learn, and empower them with achievement. 				CHILDREN'S ADVOCACY: Bettering the lives of children is central to CLF's purpose. Ultimately, the goal is to help children reach their fullest potential, which means sufficient education, healthcare, shelter and care. The foundation sponsors programs that mitigate the hardship that confronts and impedes too many children. This means targeting issues like child abuse, adequate foster housing, literacy and hunger. Improving children's education is essential to achieving positive outcomes for children and youth of all ages. It also creates communities where children and families can thrive. After-school programs enhance and strengthen the educational experience, helping to keep children in school, gain self-esteem and thrive. We also encourage children to be their own advocates. Check out the Charles Lafitte Foundation Kid's Corner. • MEDICAL RESEARCH AND INITIATIVES: CLF supports and encourages health research and education, leading to better healthcare, disease prevention, and healthier lives. Through education, public awareness of basic wellness issues can be illuminated and healthy lifestyles and habits encouraged. The foundation looks for efforts that stress quality of life, including disease prevention, and often focuses on specific groups with serious and neglected problems. Through research, medical advancements are explored and tested, resulting in the therapies and treatments of tomorrow. Other medical initiatives, such as long-term patient housing and palliative care, require serious attention and solutions. • THE ARTS: Exposure to the arts is vital to fostering and sustaining healthy communities. With diminished civic support and declining patronage, most arts organizations are increasingly challenged. Innovation, creativity, initiative, and risk taking are intrinsic to artistic expression, inspiring audiences to dig deeper into their personal potential and freeing minds to contemplate dreams. CLF goals for arts funding include: (1) cultivating new talent; (2) supporting established artists; (3) providing educational programs that encourage children's creativity; (4) furthering equal access to the arts; and (5) establishing therapeutic arts programs. The Charles Lafitte Foundation prefers underwriting specific projects with distinct goals, and targets grants that will have a notable impact and make a material difference.

The mission of USDA's Economic Research Service is to anticipate trends and emerging issues in agriculture, food, the environment, and rural America and to conduct high-quality, objective economic research to inform and enhance public and private decision making.
ERS shapes its research program and products to serve those who routinely make or influence public policy and program decisions. Key clientele include White House and USDA policy officials; the U.S. Congress; program administrators/managers; other Federal agencies; State and local government officials; and organizations, including farm and industry groups. ERS research provides context for and informs the decisions that affect the agricultural sector, which in turn benefits everyone with efficient stewardship of our agricultural resources and the economic prosperity of the sector.
As a federal statistical agency covered by the Office of Management and Budget's (OMB) Statistical Policy Directives, ERS is responsible for ensuring the quality, objectivity, and transparency of the statistical information it provides. Our policies and procedures for publishing research and data are designed to ensure that we provide high quality and objective analysis.
ERS research and analysis covers a broad range of economic and policy topics:
- Agricultural Economy – farm sector performance and farm households' well-being; farm size and concentration; market analysis, data, and projections on commodity supply, demand, and prices; and Federal farm policies
- Food and Nutrition – U.S. food security, food and nutrition assistance programs, food choices and health outcomes, food access and store proximity, food retailing and marketing, and food prices
- Food Safety – societal benefits associated with reducing food safety risks, economic impacts of food hazards, and potential results of regulation versus industry decisions
- Global Markets and Trade – major markets and competitors, economic impacts of exports and imports, trade barriers, and potential trade agreements | [Community Planning and Capacity Building, Economic, Natural and Cultural Resources] | | Deadline not identified. |

				• Resources and Environment – economic impacts of conservation programs, efficacy of policies designed to protect the environment, and enhancing agricultural competitiveness through technology • Rural Economy – investments in rural communities and drivers of rural economic performance, demographic change and its impact on rural communities ERS digitally publishes its research and analysis in economic research reports, articles in our award-winning Amber Waves magazine, data visualizations and data products throughout the year. ERS's suite of data products encompasses estimates, forecasts, and economic and statistical indicators. In addition, the ERS commodity outlook program delivers timely, independent, and objective information about agricultural markets and provides projections of U.S. and world agricultural commodity production, consumption, and trade. These outlook reports and data are among the most widely accessed ERS products. For all upcoming ERS releases, see our calendar of releases. Closely watched products include: forecasts of farm business and household income, commodity cost of production, outlook reports covering major crops and livestock products, annual 10-year projections for the farm sector, forecasts of the Consumer Price Index (CPI) for food, estimates of U.S. and international agricultural productivity, rural county typologies, state fact sheets, annual report on food security of U.S. households, Food Access Research Atlas, Food Environment Atlas, and Cost Estimates of Foodborne Illnesses.

Apr-30-2021	Department of Housing and Urban Development	PUBLICATION - HUD/PDR: "HUD Research Roadmap: 2020 Update"	Funding not identified. Allocated: $0	This Research Roadmap identifies key research opportunities for PD&R to highlight for Congress in budget requests and Annual Evaluation Plans while assuring strategic alignment to generate a robust pipeline of research. PD&R focuses on finding definitive answers to questions about what programs work and how they can be made better, through quick-turnaround studies and long-term evaluations that systematically assess impacts and outcomes and shed light on paths to improvement. In this way, PD&R helps drive HUD's evidence-based policymaking, promoting the best possible policies and programs through accurate data, rigorous research, and sound policy advice. To support this leadership role, PD&R developed the HUD Research Roadmap, which integrates extensive input from diverse stakeholder groups to define a 5-year research agenda. This Research Roadmap identifies key research opportunities for PD&R to highlight for Congress in budget requests and Annual Evaluation Plans while assuring strategic alignment to generate a robust pipeline of research. More than previous Roadmaps, this plan integrates evidence-building priorities for research and data collection from across the Department. This Roadmap represents a renewed process of stakeholder outreach and collaboration to identify the most policy-relevant and timely research questions and evidence-building challenges in the fields of housing and community development. Research is essential to helping the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development achieve its mission to create strong, sustainable, inclusive communities and quality, affordable homes for all. In November, HUD's Office of Policy Development and Research published the Research Roadmap: 2020 Update, HUD's research agenda and plans to support evidence-based policymaking for the Department. The Research Roadmap was developed with input and support from practitioners, advocates, researchers, and policymakers at the federal, state, and local levels.To download the Roadmap: 2020 Update, view past versions of the Roadmap, or connect to other valuable PD&R resources, please visit the Research Roadmap Page on HUDUser.gov. Jul-23-2020	National Low Income Housing Coalition	Map & Database of Multifamily Properties Subject to Federal Eviction Moratoriums under the CARES Act	Funding not identified. Allocated: $0	A searchable database and map allows some renters to identify if their home is covered by the CARES Act eviction moratoriums. The CARES Act provides a temporary moratorium on evictions for most residents of federally subsidized apartments, including those supported by HUD, USDA or Treasury (Low Income Housing Tax Credit developments) as well a moratorium on filings for evictions for renters in homes covered by federally-backed (FHA, Fannie Mae, and Freddie Mac) mortgages for 120 days after enactment. https://nlihc.org/federal-moratoriums This searchable database and map allows some renters to identify if their home is covered by the CARES Act eviction moratoriums. These new tools contain data on millions of apartments in multifamily housing insured by the Federal Housing Administration or securitized by Fannie Mae or Freddie Mac, and millions more supported by the Low Income Housing Tax Credit, HUD, and/or USDA programs. The database and map are not comprehensive; they do not include data on single family rental homes of one to four units that are also protected under the CARES Act, and they do not include all Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac multifamily mortgages. When NLIHC obtains this additional data we will update the tools.	[Housing]		Deadline not identified.

Aug-20-2021	Caterpillar Foundation	Caterpillar Foundation	Funding not identified.	Grant funding for education, environment, and emergency relief programs. Since 1952, The Caterpillar Foundation has been dedicated to transforming lives in the communities where employees live and work around the world. The foundation champions programs that support education, environment, and emergency relief. Its mission is to turn the spiral of poverty into a path to prosperity by investing in those proven to yield the best results, women and girls. Strategic areas of focus are: • Education: Access to a quality education helps break the cycle of generational poverty, contributes to business growth, and builds strong economies. The foundation invests in holistic education programs that focus on: Early Childhood (ensuring children have the best start possible and can live up to their full potential); Science, Technology, Engineering & Mathematics (building a pipeline of qualified talent, ready to succeed in a global economy); Mentoring & Leadership (developing essential life skills to help youth make positive choices); Workforce Readiness (obtaining the basic skills and training needed to find and maintain quality employment). • Environment: Protecting and preserving the environment while building local economies is critical to long-term sustainable development. The foundation supports environmental programs that focus on: Natural Resource Management (showing a tie to economic growth/development). For example, clean water improves fish yields, helping grow local economies. • Emergency Relief: When people's basic human needs are met, they are able to more effectively pursue economic and education opportunities. The foundation contributes to basic human needs through: Food (reducing hunger and increasing the availability of healthy, nutritious meals); Water (improving access to clean water and sanitation facilities); Shelter (helping people find safe,	[Community Planning and Capacity Building, Economic, Health and Social Services, Natural and Cultural Resources]	Non-Supplemental	Deadline not identified.

Sep-19-2021	Department of Health and Human Services	Disaster Resources for Older Adults & People with Disabilities	Funding not identified.	The Administration for Community Living (ACL) website offers resources that can help older adults and people with disabilities learn how to prepare for emergencies. You can also find resources for families, caregivers, service providers, & communities. Individuals with disabilities and people with access or functional needs - which includes older adults - may have unique needs related to communication, evacuation and sheltering - before, during, and after disasters - that require the use of limited specialized resources to address. To help mitigate those issues – personal and inclusive plans at all levels should be developed to help maintain the health, safety and independence of the whole community. Older adults and people with disabilities have unique and special needs to consider, however. The ACL Emergency Preparedness page offers best practices and resources that can help. The Administration for Community Living (ACL) website offers resources that can help older adults and people with disabilities learn how to prepare for emergencies. You can also find resources for families, caregivers, service providers, and communities. EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS FOR OLDER ADULTS AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES Disasters, man-made or natural, can happen at anytime, anywhere, and vary in magnitude. 				with disabilities often have unique needs during a crisis. For example, approximately half of those over age 65 have two or more chronic health problems, such as heart disease, diabetes, or Alzheimer's disease. These conditions increase a person's vulnerability during periods of time without food, water, shelter, and adequate rest. People with disabilities may also have a wider variety of functional limitations, sometimes requiring more supports, many of which are often in short supply during a crisis event. It is critical that individuals, service providers, and communities actively engage in emergency planning. Each person has a responsibility to prepare for potential crisis and make a plan for how to respond. Providers of long-term services and supports must train staff in all emergency actions (evacuation, lock-down, shelter-in-place). Community leaders and first-responders must be prepared to support the health and safety needs of older adults and people with disabilities, engage these populations in the planning process, and—to the maximum extent possible—provide services and supports in integrated Functional Needs Support Shelters. The only way to ensure the well-being of older adults and people with disabilities during a crisis is through a "whole-community" approach to preparedness. AGING AND DISABILITY NETWORKS The aging and disability networks are made up of local, state, and national organizations and committed advocates working to support older adults and people with disabilities. Some organizations focus on a particular type of disability, age group, or type of service, whereas others have a more comprehensive mission. There are many similarities in the services and supports older adults and people with disabilities need in order to live independently. Increasingly, the aging and disability networks are working together at state and local levels, and ACL is frequently asked for help in forging these new collaborative relationships. Together, the communities have a larger voice and are more successful advocates than any of the networks on its own. At the same time, the networks retain the unique elements of their individual missions. PROGRAM AREAS There are issues that affect both people with disabilities and older adults, and we join forces to address them. However, there also are issues that affect only older adults, or only people with disabilities, and ACL continues to develop and manage programs and advocate for the individual populations, as well. The ACL manages a variety of programs (authorized by several statutes), providing assistance on health and wellness, protecting rights and preventing abuse, supporting consumer control, strengthening the networks of community-based

Jun-26-2020	American Planning Association (APA)	American Planning Association - Rebuilding Public Housing Post-Disaster	Funding not identified.	You'll learn about: opportunities and challenges that public housing authorities face; best practices and lessons learned from Superstorm Sandy and Hurricane Katrina; roles and responsibilities of various organizations in the disaster-recovery effort. You'll learn about: opportunities and challenges that public housing authorities face in the wake of a major disaster; best practices and lessons learned from rebuilding public housing after Superstorm Sandy and Hurricane Katrina; roles and responsibilities of various government agencies and nonprofit organizations in the disaster-recovery effort. Hurricane Katrina wreaked havoc on the Gulf Coast in 2005, damaging 134,000 homes and displacing 400,000 people in the City of New Orleans alone. With over $100 billion in damage, Katrina was the costliest hurricane in U.S. history. In 2012, Superstorm Sandy became the second costliest hurricane in U.S. history, causing more than $70 billion in destruction and damaging more than 100,000 homes on Long Island and more than 69,000 homes in New York City. In major disasters like Katrina and Sandy, the poorest and most vulnerable populations are often the hardest hit. This session examines the impacts of Katrina and Sandy on public housing communities in New Orleans, New York City, and Long Island; it will also discuss the complex challenges and opportunities that come from working with low-income communities and public housing authorities in the wake of a disaster. It will focus on Enterprise Community Partners' role in the successful redevelopment of the New Orleans Faubourg Lafitte community, the New York City Housing Authority's innovative retrofit of Brookyln's Red Hook Houses, and the New York State Governor's Office of Storm Recovery's pilot project to relocate the Moxey A. 				Spay/Neuter Programs: Pet overpopulation remains one of the biggest issues facing companion animals and animal-welfare organizations nationwide. To help address this issue, we provide monetary grants to support spay/neuter programs and efforts. We Are Family Too Fund: Short-term and seed funding for animal welfare groups to help pet owners who have lost their homes or are experiencing temporary financial hurdles. We Are Family Too funds such programs as pet food banks, product donations, referral lists of pet-friendly housing, short-term foster pet care, veterinary services, etc. Education: To help educate more children and adults about the humane treatment of animals and the importance of responsible pet ownership, we support local humane education programs. In partnership with the Humane Society of the United States, we help provide KIND News (an award-winning classroom newspaper and curriculum that encourages good character in children with an emphasis on kindness to animals and respect for natural habitats) in a thousand classrooms nationwide. Project Support for projects that support the PETCO Foundation 4Rs: Reduce (spay/neuter); Rescue; Rehabilitate (training); Rejoice (promotes and assists with the human/animal bond). Items covered by this type of grant include general veterinary services, spay/neuter, trap/neuter/return (for feral animals), sponsorship of an event, adoptions, training, animal assisted therapy, dog parks, emergency, humane education, or equipment purchase (can also be applied for under Capital Grants). - Center the Climate Crisis in U.S. Foreign Policy and National Security Considerations
- Take a Whole-of-Government Approach to the Climate Crisis
- Leverage the Federal Government's Footprint and Buying Power to Lead by Example
- Rebuild Our Infrastructure for a Sustainable Economy
- Advance Conservation, Agriculture, and Reforestation
- Revitalize Energy Communities
- Secure Environmental Justice and Spur Economic Opportunity

The pilot identifies 21 priority programs to immediately begin enhancing benefits for disadvantaged communities. These priority programs will provide a blueprint for other agencies to help inform their work to implement the Justice40 Initiative across government. This initial set of programs was selected following extensive consultation with environmental justice stakeholders and the recently established White House Environmental Justice Advisory Council and the White House Environmental Justice Interagency Council. Programs include:

- Department of Homeland Security Flood Mitigation Assistance Program, which provides funding to states, local communities, tribes and territories for projects that reduce or eliminate the risk of repetitive flood damage to buildings
- Environmental Protection Agency Drinking Water State Revolving Fund, which provides funds to improve drinking water quality, prevent water contamination, and support water systems
- Department of Housing and Urban Development Lead Hazard Reduction and Healthy Homes Grants, which assist states, local communities, tribes and territories in identifying and controlling lead-based paint hazards
- Department of Agriculture Rural Energy for America Program, which provides guaranteed loan financing and grant funding to agricultural producers and rural small businesses for renewable energy systems or to make energy efficiency improvements

ARP-AIRE is a one-time discretionary grant competition authorized under Section 11006(1) of the American Rescue Plan Act of 2021 (ARP) to provide awards to TEAs for activities authorized under section 6121(c) of the ESEA in order to meet the urgent needs of students in response to the Coronavirus 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic. Those activities include a broad range of direct services to Indian children and youth, their teachers, and families.

In accordance with the Department's commitment to engage in regular and meaningful consultation and collaboration with Indian Tribes, the Office of Elementary and Secondary Education's (OESE) Office of Indian Education (OIE) and the White House Initiative on American Indian and Alaska Native Education (WHIAIANE) conducted a virtual Tribal consultation session regarding the ARP-AIRE program on April 26, 2021. Consistent with the Department's trust responsibility to Tribes and its Tribal consultation Policy, the Department consulted with elected officials of federally recognized Tribes to ensure that their views inform the Department's policy decisions related to the priorities, requirements, and definitions that govern this competition. In addition to the virtual Tribal consultation, Tribal leaders and others had an opportunity to submit written comments to the Department by email. We solicited feedback on specific questions related to the design of this grant program during this Tribal consultation opportunity.

| Oct-15-2021 | Department of Housing and Urban Development | Multifamily Housing Neighborhood Networks | Funding not identified. | Neighborhood Networks establishes multi-service community technology centers that bring digital opportunity and lifelong learning to low- and moderate-income residents living in HUD housing.

Created in 1995, Neighborhood Networks was one of the first federal initiatives aimed at promoting self-sufficiency and providing technology access to residents living in the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) Federal Housing Administration (FHA)-insured and -assisted communities. By encouraging property owners and managers to open onsite, multiservice technology centers, HUD hoped the community-based Initiative would have a profound effect on the lives of residents and it has. These centers offer adults job-training classes, such as computer skills, resume writing, interviewing techniques, job placement services, General Educational Development (GED) preparation, and English as a Second Language | [Housing, Infrastructure Systems] | | Deadline not identified. |

				The Citizens' Institute on Rural Design (CIRD) is a leadership initiative of the National Endowment for the Arts in partnership with the Housing Assistance Council, along with buildingcommunityWORKSHOP. Focusing on communities with populations of 50,000 or less, CIRD's goal is to enhance the quality of life and economic viability of rural America through planning, design, and creative placemaking. CIRD is intended to empower local citizens to capitalize on unique local and regional assets in order to guide the civic development and future design of their own communities. The CIRD program goals include: • Building capacity in rural communities to plan comprehensive revitalization strategies; • Introducing creative placemaking, arts, culture, and design strategies as drivers of economic development in rural America; • Facilitating a network of rural communities for idea exchanges and peer learning; and • Preparing communities to be ready and competitive for state and federal funding opportunities. How We Work CIRD provides communities access to the resources they need to convert their own good ideas into reality. The program offers competitive funding to small towns and rural and tribal communities to host a multi-day community design workshop. With support from a wide range of design, planning, and creative placemaking professionals, the workshops bring together local residents and local leaders from non-profits, community organizations, and government to develop actionable solutions to the community's pressing design challenges. The community receives additional support through webinars, web-based resources, and customized follow-up support after the workshop. Under the Housing Assistance Council's leadership, the program has expanded to include support for up to 20 additional rural communities. Selected community leaders are invited to gather together for peer learning; training in design, planning, community engagement, and facilitation techniques; and support in navigating funding opportunities to make their vision a reality. Both parts of the CIRD program connect rural residents with resources and ideas for developing locally driven solutions to community design challenges. A Request for Applications will be released beginning in 2021, inviting communities to apply to the CIRD program.

Funds MAY NOT be used to: • Hire people to perform construction work for participants • Buy real estate, building materials or other property • Pay debts, expenses or costs for the participants • Pay for employee training • Pay other indirect costs.
Oct-20-2021	Environmental Protection Agency	Emergencies & Indoor Air Quality (IAQ)	Funding not identified. Allocated: $0	Educating yourself about how to prepare for and respond to weather-related and man-made emergencies that affect indoor environments can help protect you and your family by preserving healthy indoor air quality. Preparation and response to weather-related and man-made emergencies is particularly important when it comes to indoor environments, since humans spend most of their time indoors, and rely on indoor spaces for shelter. Educating yourself about how to prepare for and respond to weather-related and man-made emergencies that affect indoor environments can help protect you and your family by preserving healthy indoor air quality. Several factors, including the design, construction, operation, and maintenance of buildings, as well as people's activities indoors, can impact the air we breathe indoors. Emergencies can affect these conditions by worsening existing indoor air quality issues and introducing new ones. Additionally, certain emergencies, such as extreme heat events, hurricanes and flooding, wildfires, and dust storms are expected to increase in frequency and severity as a result of climate change. Some people may be more susceptible to changes in indoor air quality and other impacts related to emergencies, including: • Children; • Pregnant women;	[Health and Social Services, Natural and Cultural Resources]		Deadline not identified.
