

This part of your Masterpiece Policy provides you with coverage against physical loss to your contents caused by named perils anywhere in the world unless stated otherwise or an exclusion applies.

"Contents" means personal property you or a family member owns or possesses.

Payment for a Loss

Amount of coverage

The amount of coverage for contents at each condominium unit for each occurrence is shown in the Coverage Summary. At the time of a covered loss, the amount of coverage for contents at your condominium unit will be adjusted to include any increase in the United States Consumer Price Index calculated from the beginning of the policy period.

If this policy is renewed, the amount of coverage for your contents may be changed by us based on annual adjustments for inflation. To reduce the possibility of being underinsured, you should periodically review your amount of coverage for contents and request an increase if you feel the amount of coverage is insufficient.

For a covered loss to contents, the amount of coverage depends on where the loss occurs:

At a covered condominium. If the covered loss takes place at a listed condominium unit covered by this policy, we will pay up to the amount of contents coverage for that condominium unit, for each occurrence.

Away from your residences. If the covered loss takes place away from any residence you own or live at, for each occurrence we will choose the single listed location on which the payment is to be made, based upon the most favorable combination of the following:

- amount of contents coverage
- payment basis
- type of contents coverage

Regardless of the number of policies providing you with contents coverage, payment will be made based only on this chosen location and will not be made under more than one policy.

At your residence not listed in this policy or other policies. If the covered loss takes place at a residence you own or live at that does not have contents, condominium, cooperative or renters coverage listed in this or any other policy issued by a direct or indirect subsidiary of Chubb Limited, we will pay up to 10% of the highest amount of contents coverage in this policy, for each occurrence. However, contents in a newly acquired principal residence is not subject to this limitation for the 60 days immediately after you begin to move your contents there.

We will choose the single listed location on which the payment is to be made, based upon the most favorable combination of the following:

- amount of contents coverage
- payment basis
- type of contents coverage

Regardless of the number of policies providing you with contents coverage, payment will be made based only on this chosen location and will not be made under more than one policy.

Deductibles

A deductible is that amount we will subtract from the amount of a covered loss in determining the amount we will pay. Either the base deductible listed in the Coverage Summary or one or more of the special deductibles applies to each occurrence, unless stated otherwise.

Special deductibles. If more than one special deductible applies to a covered loss (other than the construction special deductible), the special deductible with the greatest dollar amount applies to the covered loss.

If the construction deductible applies to a covered loss, and one or more other special deductibles also apply, the dollar amount of the construction deductible will be combined with the greatest dollar amount of any other applicable special deductible, and the total amount of both deductibles will be applied to the covered loss.

Construction deductible. In lieu of the base deductible, a 5% construction special deductible applies to each occurrence if at any time during the policy period you are constructing additions, alterations, or renovations to your condominium unit which will equal or exceed the lesser of 10% of the amount of coverage for additions and alterations for your condominium unit shown in the Coverage Summary at the time of a covered loss or $500,000, and you or your agent did not notify us of these additions, alterations, or renovations, and the covered loss commenced at such condominium unit.

This construction special deductible applies to your contents and extra coverages. The dollar amount of this deductible is equal to 5% of the combined amount of coverage for your contents and additions and alterations as shown in the Coverage Summary at the time of a covered loss.

If the dollar amount of the base deductible is greater than the dollar amount of the construction special deductible, the dollar amount of the construction special deductible is increased to the dollar amount of the base deductible. This construction special deductible applies in addition to the greatest of any other special deductible that applies to the covered loss.

Payment basis

Your Coverage Summary indicates the payment basis for contents.

Replacement cost. If the payment basis is replacement cost, we will pay the full cost to replace the contents without deduction for depreciation, or the amount required to repair the damage, whichever is less, up to the amount of coverage.

However, for contents which are obsolete or unusable for the purpose for which they were originally intended because of their age or condition, the payment basis will be actual cash value.

Actual cash value. If the payment basis is actual cash value, we will pay the cost to replace the contents less depreciation, or the amount required to repair the damage, whichever is less, up to the amount of coverage.

However, if you agree to surrender the undamaged article(s) of the pair, set, or parts to us and we agree to accept, we will pay you the full replacement cost of the entire pair, set, or parts.

However, we will cover theft from a residence where you or a family member is temporarily residing, including theft of property kept at a school residence belonging to a family member who is a student.

Additions and alterations

We cover your building additions, alterations, fixtures, improvements, installations or items of real property that are part of your unit as defined in the Master Deed. This includes breakage of glass or safety glazing material in the building, or a storm door or window. We also cover any other structure on the condominium property that is:

- owned by you; or
- available for your exclusive use and which you are required to insure.

For a covered loss to these items, we will pay up to 10% of the amount of contents coverage, plus any additional amount listed in the Coverage Summary for Additions and alterations. The same payment basis applies to Additions and alterations as to contents.

However, if you have a covered partial loss to Additions and alterations and do not begin to repair, replace or rebuild the lost or damaged property within 180 days from the date of loss, we will only pay the reconstruction cost less depreciation.

Unit assessments

We cover your share of an assessment charged against you by your condominium association. But the assessment must be a result of an occurrence that would be covered under:

- this policy to property owned collectively by all unit owners; or
- personal liability coverage if personal liability coverage is shown in the Coverage Summary or under any other personal insurance policy issued by a direct or indirect subsidiary of Chubb Limited providing you with personal liability coverage.

If there is a loss caused by earthquake, we only insure unit assessments resulting from ensuing covered loss due to fire, explosion, theft or glass breakage unless an exclusion applies.

We will pay up to $50,000 for any one occurrence, regardless of the number of assessments. But we will not pay more than $5,000 in any one occurrence for assessments that result from a deductible in your condominium association's insurance.

There is no deductible for this coverage.

Additional living expenses

As described below, under certain conditions when your condominium unit cannot be lived in because of a covered loss to your condominium unit or, if applicable, its contents, we provide coverage for additional living expenses which consists of extra living expenses, loss of fair rental value, and forced evacuation expenses. There is no deductible for this coverage.

Extra living expenses. If a covered loss makes your condominium unit uninhabitable, we cover the reasonable increase in your normal living expenses that is necessary to maintain your household's usual standard of living, including the boarding of domestic animals not primarily owned or kept for business use. We cover these increases to your normal living expenses for a period of time commencing with the date of loss and ending with the earliest of the following:

- the reasonable amount of time required to restore your condominium unit to a habitable condition;
- the shortest amount of time required to settle elsewhere if you or members of your household permanently relocate;

- the reasonable amount of time required to restore the condominium unit to the condition it was in prior to the covered loss if you are constructing additions, alterations, or renovations to your condominium unit at the time of a covered loss, but we will only cover the increase in your normal living expenses incurred by you; or
- up to two years from the date of loss, or a later date if agreed to by us.

However, you must inform us of your decision whether you intend to restore the condominium unit, or to permanently relocate, within 180 days from the date of loss, or a later date if agreed to by us. If you do not inform us of your decision by this date, the extra living expenses will cease in 30 days.

This period of time is not limited by the expiration of this policy.

Fair rental value. If a covered loss makes a part of your condominium unit which you usually rent to others uninhabitable, we cover its fair rental value during the period of time it is usually rented for the reasonable amount of time required to restore it to a habitable condition. We will cover the fair rental value for a period of time commencing with the date of loss and ending with the earliest of the following:

- the reasonable amount of time required to restore your condominium unit to a habitable condition; or
- up to two years from the date of loss, or a later date if agreed to by us.

However, you must inform us of your decision if you intend to restore the condominium unit, within 180 days from the date of loss, or a later date if agreed to by us. If you do not inform us of your decision by this date, the coverage for fair rental value will cease in 30 days.

This period of time is not limited by the expiration of this policy.

Forced evacuation expenses. If you evacuate your condominium unit due to a reasonable threat of a loss covered under this policy, or you are forced to evacuate by a civil authority as a direct result of a covered peril, we cover the reasonable increase in your normal living expenses incurred by you that is necessary to maintain your household's usual standard of living, including the boarding of domestic animals not primarily owned or kept for business use. We also cover any loss in fair rental value if your condominium unit is usually held for rental, but we do not cover any loss of rents due to cancellation of a lease or agreement. However, if we determine after the threat of loss is over that there is no covered loss to your condominium unit that makes it uninhabitable, this extra coverage will cease, unless a civil authority prohibits you from use of your condominium unit due to a peril covered under this policy.

We cover these forced evacuation expenses for up to 30 consecutive days, even if the policy period ends during that time.

Landscaping

We cover trees, shrubs, plants, and lawns, which are on the grounds of your condominium unit, against certain kinds of perils. These are fire, lightning, explosion, civil disturbance, vandalism, malicious mischief, theft, and loss caused by a vehicle or aircraft.

We will pay up to a total of 10% of the amount of contents coverage for the condominium unit at which the loss occurs, but not more than $10,000 for any one tree, shrub, or plant.

If any act that is within this exclusion involves nuclear reaction, radiation, or radioactive contamination, this Acts of war exclusion supercedes the Nuclear or radiation hazard exclusion.

Nuclear or radiation hazard. We do not cover any loss caused by nuclear reaction, radiation, or radioactive contamination, whether controlled or uncontrolled, or any consequence of any of these, regardless of any other direct or indirect cause or event, whether covered or not, contributing in any sequence to the loss. But we do insure ensuing covered loss due to fire resulting from a nuclear reaction unless another exclusion applies.
