2013
HIGH-TECHNOLOGY INVESTMENT TAX CREDIT
WORKSHEET INSTRUCTIONS

This credit is available to taxpayers engaged in high-technology activity that purchase and use eligible equipment or that lease eligible equipment from lessors.

High-technology activity includes the design, creation and production of computer software, computer equipment, supporting communications components and other accessories that are directly associated with computer software and equipment. High-technology activity also includes the provision of internet access services and advanced telecommunications services.

Eligible equipment includes computer equipment, electronic components and accessories, communication equipment and computer software placed in service in Maine. Eligible equipment must be used in a high-technology activity. Equipment used in wire line telecommunications must be capable of transmitting data at 200 kilobits or more per second in at least one direction to be eligible. Equipment used in wireless telecommunications must be capable of transmitting data at 42 kilobits or more per second in at least one direction to be eligible.

For taxpayers that purchase and use eligible equipment, the credit is equal to the investment credit base of eligible equipment that was placed in service in Maine during the tax year. The investment credit base is the adjusted basis of the equipment on the date that the equipment was placed in service in Maine for the first time. For purposes of calculating the adjusted basis, depreciation is determined by multiplying the annual depreciation amount by the percentage relating to the time-of-use in Maine (number of days the equipment was in service in Maine divided by the total number of days the equipment was in service during the tax year).

Taxpayers that purchase and lease eligible equipment to lessees may claim the credit only if the lessee waives the right to claim the credit. Whether the credit is claimed by the purchaser or the lessee, the equipment must be eligible equipment used in a high-technology activity. The credit amount claimed must be net of any lease payments received during the tax year. In order to qualify, the lessor must derive no more than 1/3 of aggregate lease payments from the eligible equipment and the lease must qualify as a lease for federal purposes under Revenue Procedure 2001-28.

For taxpayers that lease eligible equipment from a lessor, the credit is equal to the lease payments made on the equipment during the taxable year. Lessees that sub-lease eligible equipment may claim the credit only if the sub-lessee waives the right to claim the credit. Whether the credit is claimed by the lessee or sub-lessee, the equipment must be eligible equipment used in a high-technology activity. If the credit is claimed by the lessee, the credit amount must be net of any lease payments received during the tax year. If the eligible equipment is depreciable by the lessee or sub-lessee, the credit amount is based on that person's investment credit base of the eligible equipment. If the credit is claimed by the lessor, the lessor must derive no more than 1/3 of aggregate lease payments from the eligible equipment and the lease must qualify as a lease for federal purposes under Revenue Procedure 2001-28.

The credit (including carryforward amounts) is limited to the tax liability of the taxpayer and may not reduce the tax liability of the current year to less than the tax liability of the previous year after all other credits except the high-technology credit. In addition, the credit may not be used to reduce the tax liability of the taxpayer by more than $100,000 after the allowance of all other credits except the family development account reserve fund credit (36 M.R.S.A. § 5216-C) and the super research credit (36 M.R.S.A. § 5219-L). Unused credit amounts may be carried forward for up to 5 taxable years.

Special rules apply to corporations filing combined returns. 36 M.R.S.A. § 5219-M(6).

In the case of pass-through entities (partnerships, LLCs, S corporations, trusts, etc.), the partners, members, shareholders, beneficiaries or other owners are allowed credits in proportion to their respective interests in these entities.
