- Do not include amounts paid for interest or special assessments.
- Do not include property taxes on property other than your primary residence.
- Do not claim any property tax paid by others. You can claim one-half of the property tax you paid. Do not include property taxes claimed as a business expense on your federal tax return.
- Do not include taxes on any part of your home that serves as a separate dwelling. Include only the taxes paid for the part of the home you occupied as your primary residence. For example, your primary residence is one unit located in a three-unit dwelling. Part-year residents - enter only rent amounts you paid on your home in Maine during the part of the tax year you were a Maine resident. Note: You may be asked to provide copies of rent receipts or canceled checks before a refund is issued.

- Do not include mortgage payments or room and board payments. Mortgage payments and room and board payments are not rent.
- Do not include the rent amount paid by a government program.
- Do not include rent for any part of your home that was rented out to others. For example, you share an apartment with your sister. Each of you are equally responsible for one-half of the rent. Include only the amount of rent you paid to live in the apartment.
- Do not include rent for any part of your home used exclusively for business. For example, you rent a two-story building. You live in a 2nd floor apartment and run a business on the 1st floor. Claim only the portion of rent you paid for the right to live in the 2nd floor apartment.
- Do not include rent claimed as a business expense on your federal return.

Line 5c. If the rent you entered on line 5a includes an amount for heat, utilities, furniture or other similar items and you know the amount paid toward the heat, utilities, furniture or other similar items, enter the amount on line 5c. If your landlord cannot provide the amount you paid for heat, utilities, furniture or other similar items, multiply the amount on line 5a by 15% (.15) and enter the result on line 5c.
