Maine law requires a person to be lawfully present in the United States to be eligible to receive a driver's license or identification card. A United States citizen, born in the United States or abroad, may submit a birth affidavit when an acceptable birth document cannot be obtained. Before you may use this form, you must obtain an official letter from the state in which you were born advising that no birth record exists. This letter must include your name, date of birth, the years covered by the search for the birth record and that no birth records exist. If you were born in another country, you must obtain an official letter or statement from a representative of the country advising the birth record is unavailable before you may use this form.
