DIGITAL LEARNING DAY

NOW, THEREFORE, I, PAUL L. LEPAGE, do hereby reconstitute February 1, 2012 as Digital Learning Day to promote the use of educational technologies in classrooms to improve the learning of our young people.

WHEREAS, the use of technology in the classroom is now integral in preparing students for the 21st century workforce.

WHEREAS, recent advances in educational technology have improved the delivery of instruction and enhanced student engagement.

WHEREAS, the modern world demands that learners have a highly educated workforce in order to compete.

WHEREAS, the world has been transformed by technology, making modern the more difficult, accessible, and
